BOOKS FOR MEN

What a Young Boy Ought to Know

By SYLVANUS STALL

Cloth, $1.00 Net.

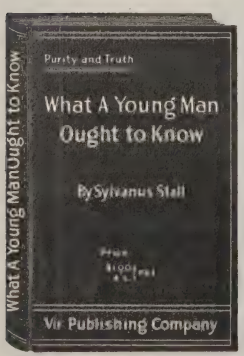
"This book brings the boys face to face with nature in her most interesting and important phases. I take pleasure in commending it to everyone."

P. Stenger Grosscup,
Judge U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

"I am tremendously interested in your books. No more important work is being done for the youth of this Nation. Not only every boy, but every father and mother burdened with the sacred responsibility for the character of youth, ought to read your splendid little book: 'What A Young Boy Ought to Know.' My experience for nine years in the Juvenile Court has convinced me that one of the greatest difficulties we face is a lack of sympathetic and intelligent education along this line.

"I have recommended your books to hundreds of young people and parents."

Ben. B. Lindsey,
Judge Juvenile Court, Denver, Colorado.



What A Young Man Ought to Know

"This book is one that deserves to be made accessible to thousands of young men. I heartily commend it."

W. H. P. Faunce, D. D., LL. D.,

"The broad and pure spirit in which you have approached the subject, the thorough and systematic way in which you have discussed it, and the high purpose which you have indicated as an essential part of every young man's life, make the book of the utmost value."

Ethelbert D. Warfield, LL. D.,
President of Lafayette College, Easton, Penna.

What A Young Husband Ought to Know

By SYLVANUS STALL

"If the knowledge contained in this book were more generally diffused, many sad duties left for the physician would become unnecessary."

Howard A. Kelly, M. D.,
Physician and Surgeon, Baltimore.

"I personally feel that its possession, and following it in practice by young husbands would be conducive to a purer life and more happiness."

H. J. Boldt, M. D.,

CHEEVER.—Select Methods in Inorganic Quantitative Analysis. By Byron W. Cheever, A.M., M.D., late Acting Professor of Metallurgy in the University of Michigan. Revised and enlarged by Frank Clemes Smith, Professor of Geology, Mining and Metallurgy in the State School of Mines, Rapid City, S. D. Parts I. and II. New Fourth Edition. 12mo. $2.00.

The first part of this book, as indicated by the title, consists of Laboratory Notes for a Beginner's Course in Quantitative Analysis. It considers the subjects of Gravimetric and Volumetric Analysis, for beginners, by means of the chemical analysis of a set of substances, properly numbered, in each case giving the methods to be followed in such analysis; also the methods for calculating and preparing volumetric standard solutions, generally following the course offered by Professor Cheever to his students. It also considers the methods for the determination of the specific gravities of various liquids and solids.

Although a number of the analyses contained in Part I. may be of only approximate accuracy, and of small commercial value, such are yet included with a special purpose, to wit:—that they may supply the student with a wider range of work and a greater diversity of chemical manipulation. This was Professor Cheever's idea, and it is certainly a good one, especially since, in most cases, the work of the beginner simply serves to emphasize the necessity of careful scrutiny of details and methods for practical work in the future.

Part I. is offered, then, for the use of schools and colleges, and it is intended to supply a source of elementary information upon the subject of Quantitative Chemical Analysis rarely offered in such form in works upon that subject.—Preface.

The author was for many years Professor of Metallurgy in the University of Michigan, and the methods here presented are those mostly offered by him to his students. As a beginner's book in quantitative analysis, it will be found eminently practical, and it can be honestly recommended to the student who desires a source of elementary information upon this branch of applied science. The book is divided into two parts, the first consisting of laboratory notes for beginners. The subjects of gravimetric and volumetric analysis are considered by means of the chemical analysis of a set of substances, properly numbered, in each case giving the methods to be followed in such analysis, and also the methods of calculating and preparing volumetric standard solutions, etc. Methods for the determination of specific gravities of various liquids and solids are also considered.

Part II. contains a number of select methods in inorganic quantitative analysis, such as the analysis of limestone, iron ores, manganese ores, steel, the analysis of coal, water, mineral phosphates, smelting ores, lead slags, copper, arsenic, bismuth, etc. A chapter on reagents concludes the work.—Pharmaceutical Era.

CLASSEN - HARRIMAN.—Quantitative Analysis. By Alexander Classen, Director of the Laboratory of Inorganic Chemistry and Electro Chemistry in the Royal Technical School, Aachen. Authorized Translation from the Fifth German Edition, with an Appendix on the Qualitative Analysis of Minerals, Ores, Slags, Metals, Alloys, Etc., including the Rare Elements, by Norman F. Harriman, Assistant in Chemistry in the University of Michigan. 79 Illustrations. Handsomely bound in half leather, $4.00.

What the London Chemical News says: "One of the features of Classen's book that makes it well adapted to the needs of those beginning the study of quantitative analysis, is the practical arrangement of the subjects treated: after a chapter on general operations, the author takes up first crystallizable salts, then alloys and minerals, and eventually advances to ores, slags, waters, etc., of increasing difficulty. The instructions in each example are very clear, being the result of long experience as a teacher and as an expert analyst. The section on pig-iron, steel, spiegeleisen, ferromanganese, etc., seems to be quite full, occupying forty pages; an equal number of pages is occupied with potable waters and mineral waters, while the section on organic analysis is rather brief, as might be expected in a work of this description.

Volumetric analysis is treated separately (pp. 407-459), but the methods in this section are often referred to in the body of the work. Qualitative methods, with special reference to minerals, ores, slags, metals, and alloys, are described in a voluminous appendix. The volume closes with several useful tables and a full index.

The translator has done his share of the work with linguistic skill born of familiarity with German and an appreciation of the requirements of good English. He has strengthened the volume by introducing some processes that had been overlooked by the German author, notably the method for the proximate analysis of coal recommended by the Committee of the American Chemical Society, Handy's rapid volumetric method for phosphorus in pig-iron (titration of the phosphomolbydate precipitate), and some of the methods of that eminent expert on rock analysis, Dr. W. F. Hillebrand, of the U. S. Geological Survey, whose 'Bulletin' is frequently cited."

A bibliography based on practical experience. The author is a professor in the Michigan State Normal College. As the myths of all nations manifest themselves first in religion, secondly in art, and third in literature, these reading references are grouped in the above classes. One section is devoted to the study of mythology in the grades, and an introductory chapter gives hints for teaching the subject in the lower grades. The books suggested in the body of the work are given in one alphabet at the end, with publishers and prices; there are also blank pages for additional references, and a good general index.—Publishers Weekly.

DWYER.—Cases on Private International Law. By John W. Dwyer, University of Michigan. 8vo. 509 pages. Buckram, $2.50.

This is a very excellent collection of cases on private international law made by Mr. Dwyer, covering a variety of subjects, and is intended especially for the use of students, though certain to prove interesting and valuable to all practitioners.—Albany Law Journal.

DWYER.—Law and Procedure of United States Courts. By John W. Dwyer, LL.M., author of "Cases on Private International Law." Instructor in the Law Department of the University of Michigan. 8vo. 361 pages. Bound in Buckram, $2.75. Sheep, $3.50.

The purpose of this work is to give a brief and concise statement of the organization, jurisdiction and practice of the various courts of our national government. It is intended as an elementary work for students in law schools, students in law offices and for young lawyers who have not received systematic instruction in this subject. In stating the jurisdiction of the courts, the author has inserted a number of the decisions of the Supreme Court. This valuable feature of the book cannot fail to commend itself to students and instructors alike. Similarly, the object of the chapter on the history of the United States is to remind the student of the circumstances as they existed at the time our government was formed—to recall the principal events in our historical development, so that the constitutional provisions may be interpreted in their true light. The author asserts, truly, that a knowledge of this branch of the law is more necessary at this time than ever before, because of the steady increase of litigation, arising from the rapid growth and reaching out of the business of the country and the bringing of certain questions within federal control. The book is exceedingly well arranged, containing besides tables of cases and tables of contents, a copious index. It cannot fail to prove highly useful for the purposes intended. We can heartily commend it to instructors and students.—Albany Law Journal.

DZIOBEK.—Mathematical Theories of Planetary Motions. By Dr. Otto Dziobek, Privatdocent in the Royal Technical High School of Berlin, Charlottenburg. Translated by Mark W. Harrington, formerly Chief of the United States Weather Bureau, and Professor of Astronomy and Director of the Observatory at the University of Michigan, President of the University of Washington, and Wm. J. Hussey, Assistant Professor of Astronomy in the Leland Stanford, Jr., University. 8vo. 294 pages. $3.50.

The determination of the motions of the heavenly bodies is an important problem in and for itself, and also on account of the influence it has exerted on the development of mathematics. It has engaged attention of the greatest mathematicians, and, in the course of their not altogether successful attempts to solve it, they have displayed unsurpassed ingenuity. The methods devised by them have proved useful, not only in this problem, but have also largely determined the course of advance in other branches of mathematics. Analytical mechanics, beginning with Newton, and receiving a finished clearness from Lagrange, is especially indebted to this problem, and in turn, analytical mechanics has been so suggestive in method as to determine largely both the direction and rapidity of the advancement of mathematical science.

Hence, when it is desired to illustrate the abstract theories of analytical mechanics, the profundity of the mathematics of the problem of the motions of the heavenly bodies, its powerful influence on the historical development of this science, and finally the dignity of its object, all point to it as most suitable for this purpose.

This work is intended not merely as an introduction to the special study of astronomy, but rather for the student of mathematics who desires an insight into the creations of his masters in this field. The lack of a text-book, giving, within moderate limits and in a strictly scientific manner, the principles of mathematical astronomy in their present remarkably simple and lucid form, is undoubtedly the reason why so many mathematicians extend their knowledge of the solar system but little beyond Kepler's law. The author has endeavored to meet this need, and at the same time to produce a book which shall be so near the present state of the science as to include recent investigations and to indicate unsettled questions.

KRAUS.—Descriptive Mineralogy with Especial Reference to the Occurrences of Minerals. By Prof. E. H. Kraus, University of Michigan. (In press).

KRAUS.—Essentials of Crystallography. By Prof. Edward H. Kraus, University of Michigan. 165 pages, 450 illustrations. $1 60.

Professor Kraus apparently makes the fundamental assumption that crystallography cannot be learned outside of a crystallographic laboratory or without the guidance of a teacher. He has thus been able to cut down his text to 162 pages and to offer his book for sale at a price corresponding to one cent per page. The large number of figures for a book of such small compass, shows that so far as possible the training is to be through the eye and the identification of models and crystals made easy.—Professor W. H. Hobbs, University of Michigan, in Science.

The book seems well suited for its purpose, and puts in a concise and compact form that part of its subject which is absolutely essential for an understanding of crystallography.—J. C. J. in Journal of Geology.

This little book will doubtless prove serviceable to instructors in crystallography, because of its many illustrations and tables of crystal forms. It may likewise prove serviceable to chemists familiar with the older forms of crystallographic nomenclature, since these are here brought into association with the new terms based on 32 classes.—Professor E. B. Mathews, John Hopkins University, in American Chemical Journal.

LEVI-FRANCOIS.—Questions Based on Levi and Francois' Reader. Pamphlet. 37 pages. 25 cents.

LEVI-FRANCOIS.—A French Reader for Beginners, with Notes and Vocabulary. By Moritz Levi, Assistant Professor of French, University of Michigan, and Victor E. Francois, Instructor in French, University of Michigan. 12mo. 261 pages. $1.00.

This reader differs from its numerous predecessors in several respects. First, being aware that students and teachers in the French as well as in the German departments of high schools and colleges are becoming tired of translating over and over again the same old fairy tales, the editors have avoided them and selected some interesting and easy short stories. They have also suppressed the poetic selections which are never translated in the class-room. Finally, they have exercised the greatest care in the gradation of the passages chosen and in the preparation of the vocabulary, every French word being followed not only by its primitive or ordinary meaning, but also by the different English equivalents which the text requires. After careful examination, we consider this reader as one of the best on the American market.

LLOYD.—Philosophy of History. An Introduction to the Philosophical Study of Politics. By Professor Alfred H. Lloyd, University of Michigan. 12mo. 250 pages. Cloth, $1.00.

Philosophy of History.—"Professor Lloyd has already outlined his conception of history in a volume entitled Citizenship and Salvation (1897). The present exposition is at the same time more definite and more comprehensive. About a third of the book is devoted to a philosophic study of the data of history; and this is followed by an analysis of the social unit, the group, and by a systematic account of the formula of history as it appears to the philosopher. The last four chapters are essays in which such topics as 'Good and Evil' and 'The Great Man' are treated from the historical point of view which is expounded in the main part of the volume. In these chapters as well as in the second part of the book acute and valuable comments on different phases of historical development abound. The first part of the volume, however, discussing Time, Causation, the Individual and Nature as data of history (is the most) valuable."—The Philosophical Review, March, 1900.

"The Philosophy of History is a meritorious attempt to connect the facts of history with the causes which have influenced the social evolution of the human race. Most writers are satisfied with the visible, immediate and direct causes of the rise or fall of nations . . . . . but Professor Lloyd wants us to go deeper yet, ... (but) whatever be the mental attitude of the readers with regard to the positions advocated in the book all will admit that it is written with great keenness of perception and with a sincere desire to reconcile, so far as possible all intellectual differences. If the author has not succeeded in accomplishing the task (of reconciliation), it is because there are differences that can not be reconciled, even by benevolence and ingenuity combined."—Annals of the American Academy of Political and Social Science, March, 1900.

MATTHEWS.—Syllabus of Lectures on Pharmacology and Therapeutics in the University of Michigan. Arranged Especially for the Use of the Classes Taking the Work in Pharmacology and Therapeutics at the University of Michigan. By S. A. Matthews, M.D., Assistant in Pharmacy and Therapeutics, University of Michigan. 12mo. 114 pages. $1.00.

McCANDLESS.—Tabular Analysis of the Law of Real Property, following Blackstone. Arranged by L. W. McCandless. 19 charts. Quarto. Cloth, $1.50.

This analysis follows Book II of Blackstone, and will prove a very valuable aid to students. The critic remembers that in the dim and hoary past when he was a student himself, he prepared an analysis of Bispam's Equity. He certainly endeavored to do complete justice to that learned work and the result was a sheet some 1x4 (yards) in dimensions. Acting according to the advice of some intimate friends he hung it up, on a shade roller, but somehow, never could persuade anybody to read it completely through. In fact, the aforesaid critic was afraid to attempt it itself when the "magnum opus" was once finished and the fearful and wonderful document still remains filed away among his dusty papers. This little incident of a past career is mentioned not that we would discourage the reader of Mr. McCandless's work or in any way compare his learned production with the superficial synopsis which we had ourselves compiled. It has long been a source of wonder to us why real estate law has not hitherto been "chartered," for there seems to be no branch of jurisprudence so well adapted to such a form of presentation. The author's work gives a bird's eye view of real property principles and as previously stated will prove of great value to the student, particularly around examination time for he can tell at a glance what would otherwise force him to spend much valuable time in searching through Blackstone. Take it all in all, the author is to be heartily commended and we would like to see his work used as a text-book in not only the University of Michigan but in all the leading law schools of the country. For the benefit of them who have not had the pleasure of perusing it we can state that it is a series of some nineteen large charts each about 2 feet by 1 1-2, handsomely bound so that the entire subject may be embraced in series of sweeping glances.—Law Journal, N. Y.

MONTGOMERY-SMITH.—Laboratory Manual of Elementary Chemistry. By Jabez Montgomery, Ph.D., Professor of Natural Science, Ann Arbor High School, and Roy B. Smith, M.S., Colgate University. 12mo. 400 pages. Cloth, $1.25.

This work is intended as a laboratory guide to be used in connection with a good text-book or course of lectures, and in its arrangement and scope it is based upon the practical experience of two instructors in the Ann Arbor High School. It is therefore restricted to such work as may be done by the average high school pupil. The experiments which are directed are given more to enable the student to comprehend the methods of analytical chemistry than to acquire particular proficiency in the work of chemical analysis. The work is characterized by minuteness of explanation, a feature which will be appreciated by the beginner.—Pharmaceutical Era.

MORRIS.—Clinical Temperature Chart. By Roger S. Morris, A.B., M.D., University of Michigan. Postpaid, 48 cents per quire.

There are spaces for stools, urine, dates and days of disease besides abundant room for the personal data, diagnosis, treatment, termination, and for daily notes. Anything that assists and favors accuracy in clinical records, either in hospital or private practice, should be welcomed by physicians, and those who are looking for a chart different from those now in use are warmly advised to examine this one.

REV. J. T. YOUNG.—"Mormonism: Its Origin, Doctrines, and Dangers." Pamphlet. 72 pages. 25 cents.

This brochure of seventy pages in paper covers is a sharp attack on the Mormon system, showing that its beginnings were in fraud and villainy, that its doctrines are debasing, and that its continuance in the United States is a political and religious menace. If Mormonism is one-tenth as bad as this booklet represents, the marvel is that the viper life was not crushed out long ago.—The Standard, Chicago.

RICHMOND.—The Pronunciation of Greek and Latin Proper Names. By Henry J. Richmond, A.B., University of Michigan Graduate School. 60 pages. Cloth, 30 cents.

ROOD.—A Digest of Important Cases on the Law of Crimes. By Professor John R. Rood of the University of Michigan. 623 pages. Buckram, $3.75.

This pamphlet contains the Statute of Frauds (29 Car. II c. 3) complete, also Lord Campbell's Act, the Mandamus Act of 9 Anne, and the Victorian Wills Act. The intention is to furnish students a copy of all those important English statutes and are therefore prominent in his courses of study.

ROOD.—On Attachments, Garnishments, Judgments, and Executions. By John R. Rood, University of Michigan. The table of contents, table of cases, and text cover 183 pages. The leading and illustrative cases and notes cover 514 pages. A very full index has been compressed into 36 pages. Total 733 pages. The two books bound as one, in buckram, for one price. $3.00. Octavo.

The text is not claimed to be exhaustive upon any point. To make it so would defeat the very purpose for which it was written. A tree is not complete without all its foliage, but the outline of the branches cannot be clearly seen till the leaves have fallen. In the present discussion, details have been similarly omitted so that the more important matters can be seen. Anson on Contracts may be said to cover all the matters treated in the elaborate works on particular contracts, such as sales, agency, partnership, suretyship, deeds, mortgages, etc. In like manner this manual is intended to explain all the matters covered by the extensive treatises on jurisdiction, judgments, res judicata, attachment, garnishment, and executions. It is not designed to trespass on the field occupied by any of these books, but to give what none of them does or can—a clear outline of the whole, without that cloud of details and the confusing review of inconsistent decisions upon them, which the writer of a complete text must give. In this way, it is hoped that a comprehensive view of broad fundamental principles may be obtained, with a clear vision of the relations between each part and all the others, and of the successive steps in each proceeding from beginning to end.

SEVERANCE.—"A Guide to the Current Periodicals and Serials of the United States and Canada." This work has been compiled by Mr. H. O. Severance of the General Library, University of Missouri, and Charles H. Walsh, Library of Congress. 400 pages. Cloth, $2.00.

WAGNER.—Spanish Grammar. By C. P. Wagner, Ph.D., Assistant Professor in the University of Michigan. 8vo. 197 pages. Cloth, $1.25.

This new Grammar presents a radical departure from the types of grammar now most in vogue. To mention only one of its original features: the exercises are composed of connected instead of detached sentences. It has already been adopted by several of the largest universities.

WARTHIN.—Practical Pathology for Students and Physicians. A Manual of Laboratory and Post-Mortem Technic, Designed Especially for the Use of Junior and Senior Students in Pathology at the University of Michigan. By Alfred Scott Warthin, Ph.D., M.D., University of Michigan. New edition in press.

We have carefully examined this book, and our advice to every student and practitioner of medicine is—buy it. You will never regret having invested your money in it and you will acquire such a large fund of information that the study of pathology will become a pleasure instead of the drudgery which it so unfortunately seems to be in many cases.

Part I. of this book, embracing some 103 pages, deals with the materials, which includes the proper examination and notation of the gross changes which have occurred in every part of the body. In fact it is a complete expose of what a complete and accurate autopsy should be, the observance of which is oftener followed in the breach than in the actuality. Part II., which includes 134 pages, deals with the treatment of the material. This is a very important part of the work, as it gives explicit directions in regard to the instruments to use, stains and staining methods, drawing, the preservation of specimens, hardening methods, in fact, of all those technical points connected with practical pathological microscopy. The examination of fresh specimens, injections, methods of fixing specimens as well as special staining methods are taken up. In fact, space forbids us to give the entire, which are most valuable in every detail.—St. Louis Medical and Surgical Journal.

WARTHIN.—A Blank Book for Autopsy Protocols. Fourth Edition. By Alfred Scott Warthin, M.D., Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Pathology in the University of Michigan. Bound in Full Canvas, 75 cents.

The medical student at the University of Michigan is expected to attend twenty autopsies during the last two years of his studies, and this book is designed to facilitate the keeping of a careful protocol, which he is required to make in every case. The book is of a convenient size and can accommodate the autopsy protocols of ten cases. Each autopsy is allowed ten pages, carefully ruled for the various organs.

WATSON.—Tables for the Calculation of Simple or Compound Interest and Discount and the Averaging of Accounts. The Values of Annuities, Leases, Interest in Estates and the Accumulations and Values of Investments at Simple or Compound Interest for all Rates and Periods; also Tables for the Conversion of Securities and Value of Stocks and Bonds. With full Explanation for Use. By James C. Watson, Ph.D., LL.D. Quarto. Cloth, $2.50.

A book most valuable to bankers, brokers, trustees, guardians, judges, lawyers, accountants, and all concerned in the computation of interest, the division and settlement of estates, the negotiation of securities, or the borrowing and lending of money, is the above work of the late Professor James C. Watson, formerly Director of the Observatories and Professor of Astronomy at the Universities of Michigan and Wisconsin, and Actuary of the Michigan Mutual Life Insurance Company.

It contains, in addition to the usual tables for the calculation of simple or compound interest and discount, many tables of remarkable value, not found elsewhere, for the averaging of accounts, the values of annuities, leases, interests in estates, and the accumulations and values of investments; also tables for the conversion of securities, and the values of stocks and bonds.

There are also given very full and clear explanations of the principles involved in financial transactions, and a great variety of miscellaneous examples are worked out in detail to illustrate the problems arising in interest, discount, partial payments, averaging of accounts, present values, annuities of different kinds, annual payments for a future expectation (as in life insurance), or for a sinking fund, conversion of securities, values of stocks and bonds, and life interests.

This book was issued from the press under the author's careful supervision. Professor Watson was noted for his clear insight into problems involving computations, and also for his wonderful ability in presenting the method of solution of such problems in a plain and simple manner. The varied array of practical examples given in connection with his "Table" shows these facts in a remarkable manner. This book provides, for those least expert in calculations, the means of avoiding mistakes likely to occur; and for the man engrossed in the cares of business, the means of making for himself, with entire accuracy, the calculation which he may need, at the moment when it is needed.

In a poetically written prologue, the author reveals a conviction that the book wrote itself, so to speak; and in an epilogue is stated what appears to be the exalted conception of the trend of this new, or newly rediscovered, belief. Between the two lies a well developed novel, and the book has been written with considerable literary ability. —Evening Wisconsin, Milwaukee.

The artist's drawings are accompanied by short descriptive chapters contributed by a number of well-known writers. As a rule the Sister Universities have been kept apart,—the idea of this book is to exhibit their respective beauties to the eye in a series of artistic drawings and to furnish the reader with concise accounts of the Colleges and their foundations. An introductory chapter deals with the points of contrast and resemblance in the architectural ideals of the two ancient Universities.

A strong, courageous story, written with a purpose. Jimmie Grierson returns from his wanderings to find himself the black sheep of a family of appalling respectability, people of narrow views, the morality of the Pharisee and of a charity limited to the social circle they adorn. If the author's criticism of our modern civilization is severe, its truth can hardly be disputed. . . . "A good clean book."—The Bookman, London.

*JEPSON, EDGAR . . . . . THE GARDEN AT NO. 19

12mo, cloth, illustrated, with jacket in colors, net $1.20

A thoroughly artistic story,—this is a mystery tale in which the commonplace, prosaic incidents of every day life are contrasted with and mitigate the growing horror of the supernatural element. The matter of fact tone of the narrator with the love affair into which he is drawn give an air of possibility to the mystery and soften the horror.—The Sun, New York.

Unusual—that's the adjective fits best the Garden at No. 19.—Inter-Ocean, Chicago.

*JOHNSON, ROSSITER THE STORY OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES

The narrative is intensely attractive; into it are woven many incidents strange to the average reader or student, and it compares in plain terms the positive character of the American constitution with the unfixed meaning of the English charter. Without sacrificing historical accuracies and integrity, the author has invested a "dry" subject with "human interest"—in itself a notable achievement.

It is concise, exact, and sufficient.—New York Sun.

*LAWTON, FREDERICK, M.A. . . . BALZAC—A BIOGRAPHY

It is very difficult either to arrive at a definite judgment about Balzac or to achieve a definite biography, but Mr. Frederick Lawton's biography is an exceedingly sane and accomplished piece of work. It is a biography in the best sense of the term, for without giving us too many unnecessary details it illustrates the life by the books, and the books by the life.

Mr. Lawton proves over and over again that the novelist made considerable use of his own experience not only in the larger works, but also in the smaller.

This is one of the best illustrated books on Balzac yet published. Several of the pictures—The Tour's Portrait, exhibited in the Salon of 1842, and Grandville's caricature of "Celebrities at a Tea-party" for instance being little known to English or American readers.

*McKEAN, THOMAS . . . . . THE MERCY OF FATE

author of "The Master Influence"

The vivid and realistic story of a self-made American millionaire of humble origin, of imperfect rather than defective education, of uncouth rather than boorish manners—who enters the inner labyrinth of New York society. The mistake of his early youth pursues his progress doggedly, and notwithstanding the development of his character, the apparent success of his love affair, and the consummation of his social ambitions, he is called upon to make retribution at the eleventh hour. How this is encompassed and what results from it, makes a novel which will have many different points of interest for readers of various temperaments. It may be said the author of "The Master Influence" writes of his characters and their setting with the ease born of familiarity. As a satire at once keen and kindly as the picture of a certain class of much advertised society—as the life story of a man of singular complexity of character, "The Mercy of Fate" is a story to be reckoned with.

*MASON, REDFERN . . . . THE SONG LORE OF IRELAND
ERIN'S STORY IN MUSIC AND VERSE

The music of Ireland is an inexhaustible treasury of folklore, history and romance, yet curiously enough Erin's story has never been adequately told from this viewpoint. THE SONG LORE OF IRELAND aims to show how intimately the music of Ireland is the expression of the Gaelic spirit; it tells the history of the Irish people with a passion and picturesqueness of detail that the chronicles of the historians cannot equal. Specimens of the music are given, and of a special charm is that part of the work which deals with the mystical element of Irish music, the fairies and the land of Tir nan oge; with legends bearing on music that long ante-date the Christian era.

MEYNELL, EVERARD . . . . COROT AND HIS FRIENDS

Although Corot's career offers extraordinary attractions and but few obscurities to the biographer, no complete account of the painter has appeared. With chapters devoted to his method of work and of life, to his delightful aphorisms, to his likes and his dislikes in his own and other arts, to Corot places and Corot prices this may be called the book of the complete Corot.

(postage additional)

The painter had an extensive acquaintance and a distinguished one among the artists and writers of his day. Consequently a study of his life reveals much in the way of anecdote and personalities; and the book succeeds through an occasional paragraph of happy description in giving one a clear and external picture of the peasant painter—one of those pictures of homely individuality, like the one of Dr. Johnson in his rusty brown suit. . . . The pictures accompanying Mr. Meynell's text—black and white reproduction of Corot canvases—are excellent—Chicago Evening Post.

*MILLARD, BAILEY . . . . . THE SEA HAWK

A story of a stolen steam yacht poaching in the Gulf of California off the Western Mexican coast. The piratical captain of the yacht formerly a Yankee schooner master is dominated by his wife "the sea hawk," and the quaint strong character of the "woman captain" is a novel feature of the story; she takes a hand in everything, and her word is law with a hen-pecked skipper.
The story has the sweep of the open sea, and although it is pure romance the people in it are human and the hero not a demi-god. The description of a corner of the continent and its inhabitants which thus far have received scant attention is well done, and the story's unusual locale adds to its interest.

WOOD, EDITH ELMER . . . . . AN OBERLAND CHÂLET

A pleasant intimate account of a summer's tramps in Switzerland. . . . The author describes much of the territory visited by the every day tourist, but she and her companions did not follow the well-worn highway, but rather chose the side paths and generally avoided the places familiar to the tourist who "does" Switzerland. . . . It is not too much to say that this somewhat personal account of a summer spent in the Swiss Oberland gives a better insight of Swiss life and character than many more pretentious books on the subject.

From the Author's Apologia.

But the discoverer of a new country still has, I believe, some privileges. It might even be considered selfish of one who had found the way back to Arcadia to keep the sailing directions secret. And though there are countless tourists who know the Swiss hotels and mountain railroads, numerous villa people well versed in the tennis and golf facilities of Montreux or Lucerne, and a goodly company of Alpinists who can tell you all about guides and ropes and the ascent of the Matterhorn, there never was anybody who got out of a Swiss summer precisely what we did, or who, in fact, knows our own particular private Switzerland at all. Those who come nearest it are the Swiss themselves, who tramp about singly or in flocks among their well-loved mountains. But whatever impressions they receive die with them. The rocks and glaciers are not more inarticulate.

Even in this very practical and sometimes painfully utilitarian age there are certain prescribed forms and accepted standards to which business and society must conform. Miss Gavit has seriously tried to set these forth. The Literary World, Boston, says: "The title well sets forth the contents and the book well fulfills the title. It makes many excellent points, which persons unaccustomed to extended correspondence, and especially women unaccustomed to business correspondence, will be thankful for and would do well to bear in mind." . . . "A book of real merit."—Baltimore Sun.

GORDON, W. J. . . . . ENGLISHMAN'S HAVEN

A story of Louisbourg, one of the most notable of the world's dead cities, founded, fortified, captured, all within a lifetime, its history is in itself sufficiently remarkable, and this story brings back to life many of the characters connected with its history.

The buyer of juvenile books can wish for nothing better of its kind than Bolton Hall's collection of short stories for children—the stories are intended for children from three to ten years old—there are more than thirty little sketches, which will convey some knowledge of natural history, and some of the wisdom handed down from Æsop, and ingeniously blend amusement with instruction.

"The wondrous pictures which adorn its pages are after their artist's own heart. There is not a trace of imitation of any other Mother Goose pictures we ever saw about them, and over them the childish eyes will bend with silent delight, and even the eyes of father and mother, to say nothing of grandfather and grandmother, brighten up with new pleasure as they revive the sensations of their own childhood and enter once more into the unspeakable joys of the age of five years."—Literary World.

OXLEY, J. MACDONALD . . WITH ROGERS ON THE FRONTIER

A Story of 1756. Boys will like "With Rogers on the Frontier." It is well written, with no padding, and if the things Seth Allen did are somewhat marvelous, that was the day when brave deeds were not the monopoly of the mature. It gives a good idea, too, of the French and Indian War.

12mo, cloth, illustrated, $1.00

"The author writes in this volume, not for the technical student of art, but for the lover of good painting and especially for that great class who have come to find in the work of Millet, Corot, and Rousseau some of the most charming and satisfying examples of modern landscape—it is full of the atmosphere of Barbizon."—The Outlook.

SPRAGUE, W. C. . . . . NAPOLEON BONAPARTE

THACKERAY, W. M. . . . . THE ROSE AND THE RING

or the History of Prince Giglio and Prince Bulbo for Great and Small Children. In "The Rose and the Ring," Thackeray's fondness for children bubbles out full of fun and frolic. "Mr. Wilson makes you understand the power of environment." Such criticisms as are used are always remarkably well selected. Good humor pervades the work, and it is precisely the kind of writing which adapts itself to the better understanding of the many illustrious ones who have made New England so distinguished."—New York Times Saturday Review.

LIST OF BOOKS

Lieut. Com. Edward L. Beach.

RALPH OSBORN—MIDSHIPMAN AT ANNAPOLIS. A story of Annapolis life. Fully illustrated. 366 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

Life in the United States Navy was never more attractive to the youth of our country than it is to-day when the prestige gained by the wonderful cruise of our battleship fleet is still fresh. Life at Annapolis, our naval college, is the first step in the naval officer's career and is particularly interesting as depicted in this story of how Ralph Osborn won his first spurs. The incidents presented in the volume and the coloring used in painting the pictures of naval academy life are true in every essential, and the volume gives an accurate, interesting, and altogether enjoyable story of just what the naval officer's life really is during his apprenticeship days.

Egerton R. Young.

THE BATTLE OF THE BEARS. Life in the Northland. Beautifully illustrated by photographs and pen and ink drawings. 341 pp. Cloth bound. $1.50.

For many years the author was a missionary among the Hudson Bay Indians, and his stories of life in the far North are filled with interest and excitement. He saw the red man as he was before the opening up of the great Northwest and his pictures of that life are wonderful and fascinating. His long and lonely trips, covering thousands of miles, with only the red men and his faithful dogs for companions, gave him such an intimate knowledge of human nature that this story of his work teems with unusual interest for all. His pictures of nature as he saw it in that frozen world are remarkable.

HECTOR, My Dog; His Autobiography. Life in the Northland. Illustrated. 332 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

A unique volume drawn from the life experience of a writer who spent long years of romantic adventure in semi-arctic regions.

The stories of Hector, the clever dog, the supposed narrator, are extremely entertaining. There are studies in dog nature, which every lover of these beautiful animals will read with intense pleasure; of his thrilling race with the great gray wolf; of his trials in a land where all wood and hay were dragged home by the faithful dogs.

Sidford F. Hamp.

DALE AND FRASER—SHEEPMEN. A story of Colorado sheep-raising. Illustrated. 312 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

THE BOYS OF CRAWFORD'S BASIN. A story of Colorado ranch life of the early seventies. Illustrated. 334 pp. Cloth bound. $1.50.

"Dale and Fraser—Sheepmen" is a picture of the life of a Western wool-grower, an existence eventful and oftentimes most exciting, teeming with the many adventures that fall to the lot of a sheepman of the high plains.
It is a clear portrayal of the important wool-growing industry, as practised in Colorado, and its truthfulness will receive the indorsement of those who are best able to judge.
Mr. Hamp has written "The Boys of Crawford's Basin" as a companion volume to "Dale and Fraser—Sheepmen," and it is a faithful picture of ranch life in the Colorado mountains at a time when all the country beyond reach of the railroads, which then stopped short at the base of the foothills, was an almost tractless wilderness of peaks and valleys.

THE TRAIL OF THE BADGER. A story of the Colorado border thirty years ago. Illustrated. 351 pp. Price, $1.50.

The subject of "The Trail of the Badger" has for its motive the great subject of desert reclamation, and it presents a graphic and true picture of life on the southern border of Colorado at the time when the eager seeker after gold and silver was intruding his unwelcome presence upon the long settled and slow moving Mexican communities.

Mrs. C. V. Jamison.

SERAPH, THE LITTLE VIOLINISTE. Illustrated. 298 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

THE PENHALLOW FAMILY. A story. Illustrated. 317 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

One of the reasons for the great success of Mrs. Jamison's books is that she thoroughly understands young people and knows how to describe them naturally and truthfully.
One of her most charming stories is that in which she describes "Seraph, the little violiniste," the child with the wonderful gift of music, which finds its natural expression through the medium of the violin.
In "The Penhallow Family," the story is located in an old town in one of the British Provinces, while its families are drawn from one of the noblest of old Scotch families. The author's portrayal of the young heroine, in all her strength and beauty of character, adds much of value as well as interest.

Carolyn Wells.

THE DORRANCE DOMAIN. A story. Illustrated. 301 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

DORRANCE DOINGS. A story. Sequel to "The Dorrance Domain." Illustrated. 351 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

Carolyn Wells, noted for the wit and humor which she introduces into her stories, has never written more entertaining volumes than these, in which she follows the ups and downs of the Dorrance family.

The Dorrance children, although well-bred, are by nature noisy and frolicsome, and the poor grandmother is at her wit's end to know what to do. It is when things look the darkest that the "Dorrance Domain" and the "Flower Folly" appear, both of which prove to be "godsends" to dear old Grandmother Dorrance and the Dorrance children. The "Domain" was theirs, and how during the summer they turned it to their advantage, their pleasure, and to success forms the groundwork for "The Dorrance Domain." But as the winter approached other arrangements had to be made. Life in the city was even more distasteful to this happy-go-lucky family than ever. As things looked the darkest the "Flower Folly" was chosen by the family as their winter home, and in the "Dorrance Doings" their life during the winter is graphically portrayed.

Every reader will be enthusiastic over the spirit and pluck of her characters.

Nina Rhoades.

RUTH CAMPBELL'S EXPERIMENT. A story. Illustrated. 288 pp. Cloth. $1.25.

THAT PRESTON GIRL. A story. Illustrated. 340 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

POLLY'S PREDICAMENT. A story. Illustrated. 341 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

Miss Rhoades' up-to-date stories are just the ones which girls will enjoy, as they are true pictures of life, and contain experiences and adventures which have fallen to the lot of many. In "Ruth Campbell's Experiment" the author has depicted the life of a most interesting girl who worked her way up under adverse circumstances, while in "That Preston Girl" the author's heroine has been brought up with all the care which wealth could give. In both cases, however, when brought face to face with sorrow and hardships, the girls rise to meet them. Both are pictures of every-day life, and are strong and interesting.

In "Polly's Predicament," which is the author's latest, her characters are picturesque and strongly drawn, while the comparison between city and country life is most interesting.

SIX GIRLS AND BOB. A Story of Patty-Pans and Green Fields. Illustrated. 330 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

SIX GIRLS GROWING OLDER. A story. Illustrated. 331 pp. Price, $1.50.

SIX GIRLS AND THE SEVENTH ONE. A story. Illustrated. 358 pp. Cloth $1.50.

"Six Girls and Bob" might better be called one of city and country life, as the patty-pans represent the flat in which the Scollard family — consisting of six girls, Bob, and their mother — lived in New York; while the green fields draw one's attention to the country life which this family ultimately took up with great profit to them all.

The Interior, in its review of Miss Taggart's "Six Girls and The Tea Room," said, "It really seems as though dear Miss Alcott has returned when one reads such a delightful story of happy home life as Miss Taggart has written in this volume."

Several of the characters in "Six Girls Growing Older" have already become known and loved in the two preceding volumes, and they are but carried farther in their development. The book is full of incident, merry talk, and natural home life, teaching by example, truth, courage, and above all, unselfish love and devotion.

In the last volume of the series the characters are picked up where they were laid down in the previous one and carried through to the time when life with its added responsibilities comes to them. The volume is complete in itself, but one who has read the other stories of this series will wish to learn more of their old friends.

The simple every-day life of the border, the makeshifts resorted to, the primitive amusements, with enough reference to Indian warfare to allow the existence of this horror to be understood — these have all been used as material for romances that show both the practical and the picturesque sides of life in the new settlements.

"With Porter in the Essex" gives a graphic account of a voyage around Cape Horn during the War of 1812 and the hardships endured by the men while preparing for battle. It is an historic, instructive, and entertaining book for boys. — Transcript.

The writer of "The Cruise of the Enterprise" has scored a hit in the selection of a period of American history of which little has been written. The attacks of French privateers upon our merchant vessels resulted in the fitting out of American privateers, and it is on board of one of these vessels that the scenes of this story are laid; it is a story about boys and for boys; wholesome in tone and full of action and interest, just the book the average boy will thoroughly enjoy. — Standard.

Through the characters which the author has introduced in "With Rodgers on the 'President'" one can easily see what life on a United States frigate was at that time, the dangers attending it, the hardships which had to be endured, but principally the spirit which manifested itself when patriotism was needed. — Inter-Ocean.

Frances Margaret Fox.

WHAT GLADYS SAW. A nature story of farm and forest. Illustrated. 318 pp. Cloth. $1.25.

THE RAINBOW BRIDGE. A story. Illustrated. 254 pp. Cloth. $1.25.

These two stories by Miss Fox are widely different in character, yet they both display the author's ability to picture children with great naturalness.

Primarily, "What Gladys Saw" is a nature story containing a wealth of nature study such as the author is well known to have at her command. Still, this does not prevent the weaving in of a story about people that young readers will find particularly interesting, and which will aid in commending the book to them at once.

It is not the intention to treat nature in any scientific way; but the author strives to present it in the varied and rich forms in which it is naturally found on any well-conducted farm.

"The Rainbow Bridge" is a beautiful story of child life, and first introduces the reader into the Little Pilgrims' Home where Marian Lee was sent when but a wee little one.

The author vividly describes the life at the home; how one by one the children were adopted, and how Marian Lee finally was discovered by an aunt and taken to her Michigan home.

"The Godson of Lafayette" takes the hero through many adventures in all the stages of partisanship to the final awakening of the real disloyalty of Williams and his impossible schemes. — North American.

"Cross Currents" is one of the sweetest bits of fiction which has been written for a long time, and one which will be enjoyed by young and old alike. In the life of Margaret is exemplified what heredity will and can do. Reared in luxury, she suddenly finds herself placed in the environment of New York's slums. Her life among the sweat-shops and on the streets is a true portrayal of that side of our American life.

The picture of the girl's life as portrayed in "Cross Currents" and in "The Turn of the Tide" will startle many a reader who has never appreciated that such conditions could possibly exist, and it will bring to all a wish that they, in some humble way, could "do something."

THE PRAIRIE SCHOONER. A story of the Black Hawk War. Illustrated. 382 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

The Boston Journal says of "When Boston Braved the King": "It is a pleasure to read and recommend such a book as this. Certainly no author of popular, useful, and commendable literature ever begun his career more auspiciously."

The scenes of the "Prairie Schooner" are laid in and around Chicago about the year of 1831, and the story concerning the Black Hawk War is correct in its historical data. The author's knowledge of this locality in those days aids him in throwing an introspecting light on the early history of Chicago. — Post.

THE QUEEN'S RANGERS. A story of Revolutionary times. Illustrated. 351 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

"A Soldier of the Legion" is a story of the Northwest one hundred years ago. The tale is of two boys who together fought the Indians and the British, and who saw the surrender of Cornwallis. One of the boys was William Henry Harrison, who became president. The life of the time is vividly portrayed, and the story, although not purely historical, has a positive historic value. — Bookseller.

Blessed is the writer who has happily coupled historical truth with an interesting story, as has Charles Ledyard Norton in "The Queen's Rangers." Three young patriots, stranded in New York during General Howe's occupation, band themselves together and agree that the best way to serve the colonies for the present is to enlist under the British flag. Then begins a series of stirring exploits which does not end until they all regain their true allegiance after the Battle of Brandywine. It is a book which young lovers of history will prize. — World.

The spirit of the book is genial and wholesome; it teaches, but does not preach. — Boston Transcript.

Few writers of the present day have the ability to picture child life with such absolute naturalness as has the author of "On Hyacinth Hill."

This present story clusters around the lives of two children who come to spend the winter with their cousin. It tells how they adapt themselves to their new environments; how they make friends with the young mistress of Hyacinth Hill and her invalid brother, and what grew out of the association.

Simple in style and conception, this volume has the same valuable characteristics as have the previous stories by this same author.

FULLER, JOHN, SR.—ART OF COPPERSMITHING

A PRACTICAL TREATISE ON WORKING SHEET COPPER INTO ALL FORMS. 327 PAGES, 10 X 6½ INCHES, 474 ENGRAVINGS, CLOTH, PRICE $3.00.

This book is brought out to meet the needs of a body of sheet-metal workers whose trade has never before been thoroughly described. The author acquired proficiency in copper working through a long apprenticeship and many years of actual labor at the bench. The instruction he gives is therefore entirely practical, and will be correspondingly valued by those who are in any way interested in coppersmithing. A special feature of the work is the illustrations, of which there are nearly 500, and which add much not only to the interest, but to the value of the text, as they show the work in all stages of progress, and illustrate all the appliances, patterns and tools. The work is divided into sections, each treating a separate topic, and is thoroughly indexed. The style of the writing is exceedingly simple, and the descriptions of work go into the smallest details, a fact that will be especially appreciated by those who read the book for instruction in this handicraft.

FULLER, JOHN, SR.—TREATISE ON THE GEOMETRICAL DEVELOPMENT OF ROUND AND OVAL CONES

A Treatise for the Use of Beginners and Practical Sheet-Iron and Tin-Plate Workers. 52 Pages, 4½ x 6¾ inches, 37 Figures, Cloth, 75 cents.

This little book presents simple and accurate methods for quickly developing the patterns of ordinary conical vessels of sheet metal, and includes many rule-of-thumb methods where absolute accuracy is not essential. The methods are reduced to a system, the mastery of which will require but little time and study. A section devoted to round cones, utensils, and vessels, in every-day use shows the application of the author's rules in the construction of patterns of any of the five standard types of cones and with the least expenditure of time. The subject of oval cones is preceded by a number of examples in the construction of ovals and the method of finding their length and width from the circumference.

GRAY, G. L.—PERFECT SHEET METAL PATTERNS

The growing demand for Mr. Gray's Perfect Patterns throughout the United States and Canada is ample proof of their accuracy and time-saving features. The patterns are made full size, on heavy blue print paper. The largest patterns can be transferred on metal in two minutes. The method is to lay blue print on the tin or iron and with a sharp scratch-awl prick through on the pattern lines. Then with scratch-awl and straight-edge mark the intersecting lines, when the metal is ready to cut.

All patterns are sent rolled, not folded, and in a heavy pasteboard tube, in which they should be kept when not in use, thus avoiding exposure and unnecessary wear.

IRON AGE HARDWARE PRICE BOOKS

PERMANENT AND LOOSE LEAF EDITIONS RANGING IN SIZE FROM THE VEST POCKET BOOK G, 3 X 6 INCHES, TO THE LARGE COUNTER LOOSE LEAF STYLE E2, 10½ X 10½ INCHES, AND IN COST FROM $1.00 TO $15.00.

Every one has his own particular ideas about price books. One wants a loose leaf book with a brief cost record. Another wants one with a minute detailed ruling or perhaps a permanent leaf style. We have made a careful study of the needs of the large and small merchant, the Jobber and Retailer, and have invited suggestions from representative merchants regarding their systems, in preparing our line of price books. We, therefore, feel certain that you will find a Price Book suitable to your requirements among the large assortment of styles, sizes and rulings described.

Permanent Leaf Editions

We have prepared a line of permament leaf books of various sizes and styles of ruling, ranging from a book to fit in the vest pocket (Edition G and H) to the large office or counter price book without patented multiple index (Edition F). These editions are all printed on linen ledger paper, selected specially for its strength and finish, which permits the innumerable erasures.

They are bound in black grain seal leather of best quality and have been reinforced with linen strips, so that we can recommend them as the most durable bound price books on the market.

Price Book A

240 PAGES, 4 X 7 INCHES, REGULAR A TO Z INDEX, $1.00.

This book goes into considerable detail in describing the goods and cost prices. It has been arranged in accordance with the views of many hardware men whose methods are careful and exact. Columns are provided as follows: Article; No. or Size; Purchased From; Date; List; Discount; Weight; Freight; Net Cost; Regular; Special.

Price Book B

240 PAGES, 4 X 7 INCHES, REGULAR A TO Z INDEX, $1.00.

In this book each page is complete, and the record of prices does not, as in Book A, run across two pages. Thus it accommodates a larger range of goods with much less detail in the record. It is adapted for pocket, office or store use, and by the use of familiar abbreviations is sufficiently large for the convenient and concise record of prices. Column headings are provided as follows: Article; No. or Size; List; Discount; Net Cost; Regular; Special.

Price Book D

240 PAGES, 5½ x 8 INCHES, REGULAR A TO Z INDEX, $1.50.

Price Book D will recommend itself particularly for desk and store use, and for salesmen on the road. It is designed to provide a complete and detailed record, is strongly bound with a fine quality of heavy ledger paper, admitting of erasures and changes. The pages are numbered. A convenient feature is a supplement at the end of the book, specially ruled for notes and memoranda. Space is provided for headings as follows: Article; No. or Size; Sell, Regular, Special; Purchased from; Date; List; Discount; Net; Weight; Freight; Total Cost.

Price Book E

350 PAGES, 7 x 10 INCHES, SPECIAL MULTIPLE INDEX, $6.00.

This book is arranged to keep a complete record of prices on a single page, the width giving sufficient room. The linen tabbed index applies to every page (except Supplement) and permits reference to any article at a single motion. This greatly facilitates the use of the book, avoiding the troublesome turning from page to page which is necessary in connection with other price books. It has been prepared with great care, and it is believed that it provides a place for every article in the hardware line. Columns are provided for Article; No. or Size; List; Discount; From; Quotations, Memoranda, Tables, etc.

Price Book F

560 PAGES, 8¼ x 11 INCHES, SPECIAL MULTIPLE INDEX, $10.00.

This is the largest of our permanent leaf books, and is designed to meet the requirements of those who need a book larger than Edition E in size of page and capacity. It is used quite extensively by merchants who carry a large and miscellaneous stock and do not care to use the loose leaf books. In this edition the Index has been sub-divided to a greater extent than in Book E. It is arranged in four rows, as shown in the accompanying illustration. The tabs are of black leather, stamped in gold, and are mounted directly on the recording pages of the book. This is ruled the same as Edition E, but more space has been allowed for each column. The headings are as follows: Article; No. or Size; List; Discount; From; Freight; Cost; Retail; Job. An 80-page Supplement is provided to give room for additional quotations, memoranda, tables, etc.

Price Book G

FOR VEST POCKET USE. 240 PAGES, 3 x 6 INCHES, REGULAR A TO Z INDEX, $1.00.

The headings of Book G extend across the left and right hand pages of the book; columns are provided for the name of the Article; No. or Size; From Whom Purchased; Date of Quotation or Purchase; List and Discount; Regular or Retail Selling Price, and Special or Wholesale Price.

Price Book H

FOR VEST POCKET USE. 240 PAGES, 3 x 6 INCHES, REGULAR A TO Z INDEX, $1.00.

The record provided in Book H is less detailed than in Book G, being complete on each page, and including columns for the Article; No. or Size; Discount, and Regular and Special Selling Price.

Loose Leaf Editions

The binders were selected after experimenting with and testing all the well-known makes. For durability, workmanship and smooth operation they cannot be equalled. They are so designed that they can be quickly unfastened and sheets removed from or inserted in the books at any place. Thus users can add leaves as necessity requires, and perpetually renew them. The indexing is permanent, the tabbing projecting from blank leaves.

Price Book E2

630 PAGES, 10½ X 10½ INCHES, SPECIAL MULTIPLE INDEX, HEAVY BOARD COVERS MOUNTED WITH CLOTH AND HALF LEATHER, COMPLETE $15.00.

Additional sheets in three widths to fit the 3 rows of indexing, per hundred $1.00.

The value of the "multiple" indexing used in this edition in affording ready reference is unquestionably proved by its immediate and widespread adoption by merchants throughout the country. This index consists of 120 sub-divisions mounted on blank sheets of heavy manila. Each index character gives the first two or three letters of the names of hardware articles as illustrated herewith. The ease and convenience with which the books can be used is indicated in the following examples: For Adz, turn to AD; Anvils, AN; Augers, AU; Awls, AW.

The binder is one of the latest patented loose leaf styles. It may be extended at the hinges by means of telescope thumb screws, or posts. A feature is the counter-sunk coin locking device. By its use we are enabled to offer a price book that will not mar or scratch the desk, as the metal heads of the screws are set into the cover, so that they cannot possibly come in contact with the desk. Any coin or pocket piece may be used to open or lock the book.

This book is ruled to provide columns for the Article; No. or Size; List; Discount; From Whom Purchased; Freight; Cost; Retail and Jobbing Price. By a patented process the record sheets are crimped from top to bottom at the hinge side. This contributes a flat surface when the book is open, greatly facilitating its use. They are punched so as to fit around the posts compactly and by the action of the screws the contents of the book are held rigidly in place when it is closed. The book is supplied stocked to its minimum capacity with 315 record sheets and the index. Its maximum capacity is four inches, which will accommodate about 800 record sheets, equal to 1,600 pages and the index.

Price Book I

500 PAGES, 10 X 10 INCHES, A TO Z LEATHER TABLED INDEX, HEAVY BLACK FLEXIBLE LEATHER COVERS, COMPLETE, $12.50.

Extra sheets, per hundred, $1.25.

This is a perfectly operating removable leaf book, embodying the most convenient features of the changeable leaf plan for recording prices and quotations. It is capable of great elasticity of use and management, and is adapted to various lines of goods. It is, perhaps, especially well adapted to the wants of the larger concerns, both wholesale and retail, and to those who do not require the diversified sub-divisions of indexing given in Book E2 will prove satisfactory in every particular.

By means of the adjustable extension posts, made in inch and half-inch sections, furnished with the book, it may be expanded to hold any number of leaves desired. By removing the sections, the book may be condensed to accommodate a single sheet if necessary. The cover will lock and hold firmly in place anywhere on the posts.

In making up this edition we have used one of the celebrated Baker-Vawter sectional post binders of best quality flexible black cowhide leather. The top cover is fitted with a lock and key. The key is inserted in the hole provided at the lower end of the cover.

The sheets are ruled similarly to those in Edition E2, and provide a record for the Article; No. or Size; List Price; Discount; From Whom Purchased; Freight, Cost Price; Retail Price, and Jobbing Price. By a patented process the sheets are crimped from top to bottom at the hinge side. This contributes a flat surface when the book is open, greatly facilitating its use. By means of short adjustable extension posts, which accompany the book, it can be expanded to hold any reasonable number of leaves.

The cards have a neat and substantial brass binding, and are provided with a brass eyelet at the top for hanging. The paper is of a quality to permit of frequent pencil erasures, and the cards, as a whole, are of a character designed to withstand the constant and trying usage to which they may be subjected. The ruling gives ¼-inch spaces between the horizontal lines and 7-16-inch spaces between the perpendicular lines. The cards are divided into two classes, those having printed headings to the columns and those with no printing upon them. Cards with printed column headings are Nos. 100, 101, 102, 103, 104, 106 and 107. These headings are as follows: No. or Size; Retail; Special; Cost; List. THE ROOFING, CORNICE AND SKYLIGHT MANUAL 175 PAGES, 6 x 9½ INCHES, 170 ILLUSTRATIONS AND 13 PLATES, CLOTH, $1.50.

As suggested by the title, this book consists of three articles. That on tin roofing, which has been prepared by an expert, treats the subject in detail, including flat and standing seam roofing, with instructions for flashing around chimneys, connecting roofs with wall flashing, and covering parapet walls and bulkheads, etc. It also gives information on putting in valleys and on shingle flashing. An important table is presented with directions for its use, from which the quantity of tin required for a roof can be determined.

The second portion of the book is devoted to cornice making. An important feature is a description of a shop equipment such as can be readily purchased or made and adapted to the country shop. This section of the book also dwells on the method of developing the patterns for much of the simpler work, as well as for cutting cornice miters, attaching molded gutters to brick walls, the attachment of eave trough to roofs of different kinds, the manufacture of round and square leaders, and the making of simple ornaments.

The articles on skylight construction consist of two prize essays reproduced from "The Metal Worker," which have been in considerable demand, as they are designed to cover the instruction needed for the production of skylights of all sizes, the development of hip bars and miters, also curb and side bars. Some of the illustrations are so large that special folding plate pages are used. One of the articles describes a skylight without a ventilator and the other with a ventilator in the top. The illustrations show the method of supporting glass, and also the method of catching the condensation which is experienced with the use of all skylights. The book is one that all sheet metal workers will find of value for reference, either section covering the subject discussed in a thorough and practical manner.

SHAWVER, JOHN L.—PLANK FRAME BARN CONSTRUCTION

35 PAGES, 5½ x 7¾, ILLUSTRATED, CLOTH, 50 CENTS.

The matter given in this little volume was originally presented in the columns of "Carpentry and Building," now "The Building Age," in response to continued requests for informartion concerning the plank frame system of construction, which has been growing in popularity in various sections of the country. The author has given a great deal of attention to the subject as a practical builder and he points out the advantages of the form of construction referred to and describes wherein there is a saving of time, labor and material, an important consideration, especially in sections of the country where timber for building purposes is not over-abundant.

The lengths will be found at a glance, figuring, drawing and scaling being entirely done away with.

much attention when given in the columns of the "Metal Worker, Plumber and Steam Fitter" that it has been decided to republish the charts in book form, with much additional matter of value to the designer of heating systems. It has been assumed that the reader is acquainted with the elementary systems of piping, and the author aims to clearly demonstrate the modern methods of planning, specifying and inspecting work so that the reader may be able to detect oversights which in many cases seriously affect the economical operation of heating plants.

SNOW, WM. G.—THE PRINCIPLES OF HEATING

A Practical and Comprhensive Treatise on Applied Theory in Heating. 161 Pages, 62 Illustrations and 38 Tables, Size, 6 x 9 inches, Cloth bound, Price, $2.00.

In view of the ever-increasing exaction for scientifically designed work, the author in preparing this book has performed an important service, especially to contractors, fitters, young engineers and others who constitute the rank and file of the heating trade. He has made clear the fundamental principles of heating so that the average man can better understand how to design his work. Theory and rule are simplified and reduced to easily applied form.

The application of the heat unit, heretofore much of a mystery to the average steam and hot water fitter, is treated along new and simple lines; in such a way that all who give careful attention to the first eight chapters of the work can and should bring into constant practical use this important and common sense basis of heating calculations for, to quote the author's first words, "What the pound is to the grocer, and the 2-foot rule to the carpenter, the heat unit should be to those engaged in heating and ventilating work."

Then the basic formulas for determining the sizes of steam mains are presented, with tables and comparisons of methods of different engineers. These problems are solved for all careful readers. Pipe capacities for hot water heating are treated in a similar way. Another feature is a treatment upon vacuum systems of heating, now of popular use in different sections of the country.

CONTENTS: The Heating Power of Fuels and the Operation of Boilers and Combination Heaters; Values of Different Types of Heaters with Respect to Their Capacity to Absorb Heat from Fuels; Differences Between Gas, Oil, Electricity and Coal as Fuels, with Simple Calculations; Capacity and Fuel Consumption of House Heating Boilers; How to Compute the Size of Boiler and Amount of Fuel Required for a Season; Some Careful Tests of the Furnace Heating System; Heating and Cooling of Air; Humidity Regulation and Its Importance in Homes; Heat Given Off by Direct Radiators and Boilers; Coil Heaters Employed with Fans; Heat Losses Through Building Walls, How to Compute Radiation and the Horse Power of Heaters; Heating by Water; Heating Swimming Pools; Heating with Gas Water Heaters; Sizes of Pipes for Heating Systems and for Steam Boilers, with a Large Number of Tables; Flow of Steam in Pipes and Riser Sizes; Sizes of Mains, Steam and Exhaust Pipes; Pipe Capacities for Hot Water Heating; The Principles and Practice of Vacuum and Vapor Systems of Steam Heating.

STARBUCK, R. M.—PRACTICAL WRINKLES FOR THE PLUMBER

A COLLECTION OF VALUABLE AND HANDY METHODS, DEVICES AND CONTRIVANCES IN PLUMBING WORK. 137 PAGES, 4¾ x 6¾ INCHES, 25 FULL-PAGE PLATES (POCKET SIZE), FLEXIBLE CLOTH, $1.00.

A glance over the contents of this book indicates in a most impressive way the importance of convenient kinks and devices as applied to the simplifying and saving of time in connection with the mechanical part of plumbing practice, constructive and repair work, etc. In many cases Practical Wrinkles will save its cost on a single job by showing what to do, how to shorten, how to facilitate. There are 265 methods and devices of one kind or another described, and a large proportion of them are made plainer by the help of illustrations.

The following subjects, selected at random, suggest the nature and scope of the book as well as can be done in limited space; Getting the Length of Offsets; Making Pipe Hangers; Connecting Expansion Bolts; Making Joints; Protecting Pipes from Freezing; Cutting Holes Through Brick and Concrete Walls; Connecting Boilers; Bending Pipe; Using Plaster of Paris; Discovering Leaks, Determining Size of Pipes, Soldering and Brazing.

STARBUCK, R. M.—QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ON THE THEORY AND PRACTICE OF SANITARY PLUMBING

320 PAGES, 4¼ x 6¾ INCHES, 250 ILLUSTRATIONS, 75 FULL-PAGE PLATES AND 700 EXAMINATION QUESTIONS, 2 VOLUMES, CLOTH, $2.00.

Those who have used the old editions of this valuable work in preparing for their examinations will doubtless be glad to know of the publication of a revised and enlarged edition. So much new matter has been added that it was necessary to divide the work into two volumes, each of which contains more pages than the former edition. Three hundred more questions have been included, making 700 in all. They alone are worth the price of the complete work to the man who wants to qualify as a master plumber. The present work contains only the most approved and modern practice and includes a comprehensive treatment of range boiler connections, hot and cold water supply and circulation.

The two volumes make an exceptionally fine reference work for either the master, apprentice or student, giving as it does clear and concise information on all phases of plumbing work.

Vol. I—Drainage and Venting

160 PAGES, 4¼ x 6¾, CLOTH, $1.00.

Some idea of the field covered by the volume may be gathered from the following partial list of subjects: Traps; Venting; Circuit Venting; Loop Venting; Trap Siphonage; Soil Pipe; Drainage; Testing, Fixture Connections; Setting of Fixtures; Caulking; Main Traps; Fresh Air Inlet; Water Closets; Local Venting; Cesspools; Automatic Sewage Lifts; Sump Tanks; Septic Tanks; Automatic Sewage Siphons; Durham System; Solder, Composition, Testing, Purifying, etc., etc.; Joint Wiping; Lead Works; Pipe Bending; Repairs on Pipes; Flush Valves; Pneumatic Water Supply; Electrolysis; Grease Traps; Refrigerators; Siphon Tanks; Siphonage of Boilers; Water Siphons; Automatic Siphon Tanks; Pumps; Air Chambers; Rams; Wells; Pump Repairs; Hydraulics; Air-lock, etc.; also chapters on Theory, Recipes, Rules, Tables, etc.

Vol. II—Range Boiler-Work. Hot Water Supply and Circulation

160 PAGES, 4½ x 6¾, 215 ILLUSTRATIONS, $1.00.

This part is designed to supersede Hot Water Circulation. Illustrated. A set of fifty bound blue prints formerly sold at $3.00. It contains about three times as many illustrations with clear and concise information on the correct and faulty methods of doing the work. There is hardly a combination of range, gas heater or heater coil with one or more range boilers or a problem in circulation work which is not treated. As most plumbing examiners now include many questions on this branch of the work, this second volume is in much demand.

STARBUCK, R. M.—QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ON THE THEORY AND PRACTICE OF STEAM AND HOT WATER HEATING

110 PAGES, 4½ x 6¾ INCHES, ILLUSTRATED, CLOTH, $1.00.

This little book is planned after the style of the author's "Questions and Answers on Plumbing," and aims to help the student to acquire a right start in the study of heating methods.

It furnishes an elementary groundwork in the principles underlying safe and accepted modern methods. Therefore much of the contents naturally relate to the science of heating, while practical heating installation comes in for a large share of attention.

VOSBURGH, H. K.—TINSMITHS' HELPER AND PATTERN BOOK.

WITH USEFUL RULES, DIAGRAMS AND TABLES.
NEW REVISED EDITION. 120 PAGES, 4½ x 6¾ INCHES, 53 FIGURES, CLOTH, $1.00.

This is a useful hand-book for tinners, as well as a valuable pocket reference companion for all workers in sheet metal. It treats the simpler problems in pattern cutting, such as are of daily occurrence in the shop, besides giving a variety of tables and information constantly needed by the mechanic. Section 1 demonstrates in a simple way, and by means of illustrations and descriptive text, about 50 examples of sheet metal pattern work, such as the method of cutting can breasts, flared tinware, scale scoops, oval boiler covers, lips for measures, elbow patterns, etc. Section 2 is compiled with regard to the requirements of the tinner, describing how to find the area of a circle, the circumference of a circle, the contents of a sphere, a cylinder, a cone, and other information relating to the work of a tinsmith. Section 3 gives the weights of sheet metals, including the weight of black sheet iron, sheet lead, and galvanized iron sheets with their dimensions, the weights of tin plates, sheet copper and sheet zinc, the weight of lead pipe per foot. Several pages are devoted to tables giving the areas and circumferences of circles, the capacity of cans, the number of barrels in cisterns and tanks, sizes of tinware in form of frustum of a cone, etc., and practical recipes, including mixtures for solders of different kinds, soldering fluxes and various cements.

WEST, THOS. D.—METALLURGY OF CAST IRON

This work is of value not only to the founder, the moulder, the blast furnaceman, and the engineer, but also to the designer, the draftsman, the pattern-maker, the college specialist, and all who may in any manner be desirous of obtaining a practical knowledge of cast iron in its application to founding or any allied interests. In compiling the volume the author has been guided by a broad experience as moulder and founder in loam, dry and green sand work in the various specialties of founding. The book is divided into three parts, as follows: Part I—Treats of manufacture and use of coke; properties in ores; operations of blast furnaces; the different brands of pig iron and how to purchase and use them intelligently. Part II—Elements in cast iron and their physical effects; utility of chemical analyses and how to use them in making the different mixtures of irons used in making gray and chilled castings. Part III—Properties of and methods for testing molten iron; Discloses phenomena in the action of cooling metal, etc.; presents results of tests of all kinds of irons and best methods for testing.

WITTBECKER, W. A.—DOMESTIC ELECTRICAL WORK

Concise and Practical Explanations for Carpenters, Builders, Plumbers, Tinners and Hardware Dealers, on How to Wire Buildings for Bells, Alarms, Annunciators and for Gas Lighting from Batteries. 55 Pages, 5¾ x 8 inches, 22 Diagrams, Paper, 25 cents; Cloth, 50 cents.

The growing demand for simple electrical apparatus in dwelling houses, offices and workshops, and the need of plain instructions whereby any person without a previous knowledge of electricity may be enabled to undertake their successful installation, has prompted the publication of this little book. It is not intended for the amateur who seeks for nothing but experimental work, neither is it expected to enlighten the expert electrician, but to the person who is seeking for information that will assist him in increasing his daily earnings this little volume is addressed.

The information given is above all else practical, and with a close observance of the directions laid down, any one, though entirely ignorant of electricity, should be able to do the work described.

Contents: Simple Bell Circuits; Multiple Bell Circuit; Various Circuit; Fire Alarms; Annunciators and Alarms; Burglar Alarms; Automatic Fire Alarms; Electric Gas Lighting; Running Wires in Finished Buildings.

WILLIAMS, R. R.—BOOKS AND CARDS FOR THE HARDWAREMAN. EDITED AND ARRANGED BY

(See Hardware Store Business Methods; Iron Age Standard Hardware Lists; Iron Age Hardware Price Books and Cards.)

WOODSEND, CHARLES J.—PRACTICAL WOOD CARVING

A Simple Treatise on the Rudiments of Wood Carving, Embracing the Proper Methods of Handling Tools, as well as the Correct Shapes for Grinding Them in Order to Produce Different Kinds of Work. 86 Pages, 6 x 9 inches, 108 Figures, Imitation Wood, $1.00.

The dearth of American literature bearing on the subject of wood carving in such a way as to meet the requirements of the young mechanic desirous of acquainting himself with the rudiments of the art, induced the author to put into shape for publication some of the results of his long experience and observation in this particular kind of work. It has not been so much the aim to offer assistance to the advanced student of wood carving as it is to help those desirous of learning the art, but who have been deterred through their inability to find a work sufficiently simple and explicit to encourage the undertaking. Within the covers of the volume the reader is shown the proper shapes for grinding and sharpening the tools required for different classes of work, the methods of using and handling them, together with easy and progressive designs for practice. It is also shown how the designs can best be cut, the story being told in a way which can readily be understood by the merest novice who has an inclination in the direction of wood carving.

The Subject matter is embraced under two heads, as follows: CHASING—Tools Required; Example for Practice; Transferring Designs to Wood; Chasing Corner Blocks; Panel Decoration; Border and Book Rack Designs. WOOD CARVING—Scroll Designs; The Acanthus Leaf; Capitals; Crochets; Carving a Gothic Finial; Design for a Carved Stool.

The "Dwig" Series

The sales of the original editions of these "Mirth Provoking Humorous" Books have already reached enormous proportions. We now for the first time, offer the entire list, including one strictly New Title, in New Low-Priced Editions. "WANTS," which is the New title for 1910, will be found particularly amusing. The Author has seized upon the ambiguous meanings of Newspaper Want advertisements, and turned them to a delightful humorous effect by drawing one of his inimitable sketches around each advertisement to illustrate the meaning which he gathers from the clipping.

THE NEW UNIVERSAL SELF-PRONOUNCING DICTIONARY

Based upon the solid foundation laid by NOAH WEBSTER, and other Lexicographers, thoroughly modernized by CHARLES MORRIS.

Entirely new and down to date. The most complete and modern hand dictionary published. 1000 pages. In convenience of size, fullness of contents and logical arrangement it is especially adapted to every-day use for the business man, teacher, student and the home.

Among the noteworthy improvements are the following:

It Contains All the Words in the English language in ordinary use, including the many new words that have recently come into use. The definitions are accurate and reliable and embrace all distinctions and shades of meaning.

Words Divided into Syllables. Each index word is divided into syllables in the manner employed by the best writers.

The Proper Use of Capital and Small Letters is clearly indicated. Proper nouns begin with capital letters, common nouns begin with small letters.

The Pronunciation of Each Word is shown by a clear and properly accented system of phonetic spelling.

The Synonyms and Antonyms are given with the words themselves following the definitions instead of the usual but less convenient method of placing them in a separate list in the appendix.

Each Word and Its Derivatives are separately indexed instead of the suffix words and prefix words being crowded in with the definitions, an expedient used to save space, but with a loss of clearness and utility.

Many Other Necessary Features Useful in Home, School and Office, including Rules for Pronunciation; Dictionary of Prefixes and Suffixes; of Terms used in Business and Law; of Names of Men and Women; of Mythological and Classical Names; of Forms of Address; of Popular Titles of Cities and States; of Important Persons, Places, Monuments; of Foreign Words and Phrases, Colloquialisms, Quotations and Significant Words and Phrases frequently met with in Literature; and a Dictionary of Words adopted by the Simplified Spelling Board; Maps of the World and of the United States in Colors; Flags of All Nations in Colors.

THE READERS' LIBRARY

OF

Illustrated Handy Pocket Editions

OF

STANDARD AUTHORS

The design of the Readers' Library is to make it possible, by the convenient form in which these volumes are prepared, for any one to read the best works by Standard Authors. These volumes are of such size and weight that they can be conveniently carried in the pocket or thrown into a hand-bag, and thereby moments that might be wasted can be turned into pleasure and profit by reading the best works of the world's best authors.

THE FOLLOWING INDISPUTABLE FACTS are claimed for the Readers' Library:

1. The type is as large and as clear as the type used in the usual large volumes of Standard Authors.
2. Unabridged. Each work is complete in one volume.
3. The Illustrations are an important feature. Each volume contains from eight to sixteen beautiful illustrations. These illustrations are not the rehashed old-fashioned pictures usually found in standard works but are new and drawn by prominent artists and interpret the stories with great fidelity.
4. The paper is strong and opaque. In the volumes with a great number of pages imported Bible paper is used. This paper is far superior to India paper because it makes the print clearer and blacker, and the discouraging difficulty of turning the leaves of an India paper book is entirely eliminated.
5. The Binding. The volumes are bound uniformly in flexible leather, with gold stamping on back, and each volume has the author's autograph signature stamped in gold on the side of the book; they have gilt tops and ribbon markers.
6. For the bookcase. The small size of the volumes, the rich binding, the desirable titles, all insure these books a welcome in every library.

TABOR & TEALL—The Garden Primer. A practical handbook on the elements of gardening for beginners. 34 illustrations. 12mo. Cloth. Net 1.00

SAYLOR (HENRY H.)—Distinctive Homes of Moderate Cost. This is not a book of stock plans. The illustrations, of which there are more than three hundred, both of the exteriors of houses and their garden settings, and of the principal rooms inside, are all from photographs of houses already built, reproduced in superb half-tone engravings, with line drawings of the floor plans. They are not the great estates and show places, but the sort of places that most of us can look forward to building, ranging in cost from $3,000 to $20,000. All the desirable architectural styles are represented: Colonial, English Half-timber Stucco, Cement, Dutch Colonial (the gambrel roof type), Swiss Chalet, etc. Chapters written by authorities cover all sides of the fascinating problem of house-building, interior decoration and furnishing. The relations between the home-builder and his architect, the matter of plans, specifications, contracts, the puzzling problem of extras and how to avoid them—all these subjects are clarified in a most comprehensive and interesting way. 4to. Recommended by Rear Admiral Melville, who commanded three Expeditions to the Arctic Regions:

I have read with a great deal of interest your three volumes of the Arctic Series, "The Search for the North Pole," "Cast Away," and the "Discovery of the Pole," all of which are most vividly, though carefully portrayed.

These volumes will, no doubt, be of great interest to the youth of our country, and at the same time be an incentive to the study of the physics of the earth, the air and the ocean.

I have made three Arctic voyages and compliment you on the accuracy of your work.

I am, sir,
Respectfully,
(Signed) GEO. MELVILLE,
Rear Admiral, U. S. Navy,
Retired.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

Owing to the fact that a larger number of the Books of this class by ELLIS CASTLEMON and ALGER have previously appeared only in THE NEW FAMOUS LIBRARY EDITIONS, and a smaller number of Books by the same Authors, have appeared in both THE LIBRARY EDITIONS and THE ROUNDABOUT LIBRARY, some confusion has been caused in the past.

The New LIBRARY EDITION of Famous Books
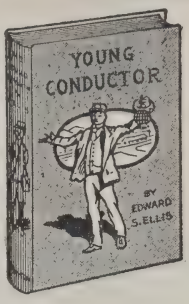
By Edward S. Ellis



STORIES DEALING WITH PIONEER LIFE will always have an attraction for the young; and although the conditions are idealized and the dangers forgotten in the glamour and picturesqueness which are thrown around them, yet it is better when they are presented in the form which Mr. Ellis gives to them than in an ultra-sensational and often harmful shape.

The volumes in this series comprise some of the best writings of this popular author. ALL ARE COPYRIGHT TITLES, and will not be found in any other publisher's list.

What We Claim

FOR THE

"International" Series of Bibles

They are the LARGEST SERIES OF SELF-PRONOUNCING BIBLES IN THE WORLD.
They are the SMALLEST LARGE TYPE BIBLES made.
They are noted for their particular CLEAR PRINT.
They are printed from NEW TYPE SET PLATES.

The ILLUSTRATED HELPS are new and up-to-date; are prepared by both American and English scholars They are protected by copyright and therefore not to be found in any other line of Bibles.

The COMBINATION CONCORDANCE or "Word Book" is the most unique and practical Concordance published. It combines UNDER ONE ALPHABETICAL ARRANGEMENT many features that are ordinarily under separate alphabetical arrangements.

The MAPS are new and geographically correct. They were prepared by Major Claude R. Conder, D. C. L., LL.D., M. R. A. S., R. E., who was sent out by the British Government at the head of the British Exploration Society to make a survey of the Holy Lands.

The GREAT VARIETY makes it possible to obtain a selection for every purpose.

THE BINDINGS are the most flexible and the most durable. This work is done by the most expert workmen. There are no Bibles better bound in the world.

What Others Say

OF THE

"International" Series of Bibles

Sunday-School Times.

"This Teacher's Manual, as the Helps are called, is deserving of high praise. It is up to date, well selected, full of life. The arrangement is simple and clear, the illustrations and maps new and admirable. . . . The portion of the manual devoted especially to the New Testament is decidedly better than the similar portion in the 'Aids' appended to other Teachers' Bibles up to the present time. . . . In part III. Dr. Plummer contributes the 'Summary of Books for the New Testament.' This monograph may be regarded as one of the best popular treatises on New Testament introduction. . . If faithfully used, it will do much to increase accurate knowledge of the Word of God. . . It marks progress toward the true ideal."

Rev. Harlan P. Beach, Superintendent School for Christian Workers, Springfield, Mass.

"In a word, it is a PRACTICAL and SPIRITUALLY helpful Bible, and especially adapted to SUNDAY-SCHOOL workers, and it is one which in the TEXT itself, which is read far more than the Helps, furnishes the LARGEST, CLEAREST TYPE that can be found in similar compass."

Rev. A. E. Dunning, D.D., Boston, Mass.

"The various contributed articles appear to have been written by men who are thoroughly familiar with recent investigation, and who, at the same time, have a devout evangelistic spirit. The maps especially are excellent."

Rev. J. P. Sankey.

"I have examined with care and pleasure the 'INTERNATIONAL' TEACHERS' edition of the Bible, and am free to say it is complete, scholarly, and, to my mind, the most satisfactory of all the Teachers' Bibles."

Professor James Strong, S.T.D., LL.D., late of Drew Theological Seminary.

"Of all the Teachers' Bibles now current, those of the 'INTERNATIONAL' SERIES. . . . seem to be the most elegant and serviceable. The PRINT is remarkably CLEAR and DISTINCT, and the COLLATERAL HELPS for STUDY are ADMIRABLE."

Bishop W. X. Ninde, Detroit.

"The 'INTERNATIONAL' TEACHERS' BIBLE is admirably adapted to the general reader as well as to the class for whom it is especially designed. Its cheapness is such that every one can now afford a Bible durable and beautiful in form; in fact, in the best form of the typographical art, and containing an invaluable literary apparatus in the Manual appended."

Bishop John H. Vincent.

"I am very much pleased with the copy of the Bible. It is, for so small a PAGE, and so THIN a book, printed in remarkably CLEAR and SATISFACTORY TYPE. The MAPS and HELPS are admirable."

Rev. H. L. Hastings, Boston, Mass.

"The 'INTERNATIONAL' Series of Bibles is superior to all others as regards the type, which is very plain and bold, giving an unusually CLEAR and READABLE PAGE. . . . The references are arranged to economize space, and at the same time are sufficiently full. Consequently the 'INTERNATIONAL' Bibles, while more readable, are yet smaller and more convenient to handle and carry than any other."

Rev. J. Zimmerman, D.D., in "The Young Lutheran."

"Of the many different Teachers' Bibles, the most recent one surpasses all others. I cannot commend it too highly to all those seeking a Bible that has a CLEAR, PLAIN, and BOLD TYPE. I regret that it was not in the field earlier for no Teachers' Bible of the same size has SO LARGE and SO CLEAR TYPE as the 'INTERNATIONAL' TEACHERS' BIBLE. This is a most important feature to be considered in buying a Bible for a lifetime."

The New York "Independent."

"The Type is clear and black. There is absolutely no waste room on the page, and every detail of manufacture seems to be well carried out. The Helps in the teachers' Bibles are new, practical and scholarly. The map series is large as well as new."

Rev. J. M. Frost, D.D., in "The Teacher."

"The 'Teachers' Edition' of the 'INTERNATIONAL,' as the name indicates, is for a specific class and is especially adapted to their use. Its new Helps, new maps, clear print, abundant references and marginal readings, convenient size, fine and durable binding, will give it great favor with teachers and others who wish a beautiful and helpful edition of the Word of God."

"The Chautauquan"

"Among the different desirable editions of the Bible NONE HOLDS A HIGHER PLACE in ALL PARTICULARS than the 'INTERNATIONAL' BIBLE. With its fine pliable covers, its light India paper, its large, clear type, it meets all the requirements of a book for convenient use."

"Christian Advocate," Nashville.

"The 'INTERNATIONAL' TEACHERS' BIBLE is destined to be a sharp competitor for the public favor. We shall be surprised, in fact, if it does not take the lead. Considered simply as a specimen of bookmaking, it has all the points in its favor which are likely to meet the taste of purchasers. No expense has been spared by the publishers to make a perfect book . . . THE BIBLE READER'S MANUAL, which is appended, is exceedingly full. . . . The General Editor is the Rev. C. H. H. Wright, D.D., Bampton Lecturer for 1878 in the University of Oxford, a man in every way fit for the task."

"The Standard"

"Besides a concordance and biblical gazetteer, it contains an unusually full supply of maps, prepared by Major Conder, perhaps the most distinguished Palestinian explorer now living. . . . We notice with pleasure the remarkable clearness of the type. . . . Readers will notice that this edition in hand bears the name of the 'Teachers' Bible.' It represents not only the most skilled mechanical execution in the line of bookmaking, but also, in its Helps, the best scholarhsip on both sides of the sea."

"Cumberland Presbyterian"

"Before recommending this Bible to our Church and friends we submitted it to a committee composed of able and scholarly men. After a careful, painstaking and unprejudiced examination the Bible was recommended in the strongest words of praise."

These Bibles are printed and bound in Our Own Establishment where every detail of manufacture can be carefully watched.

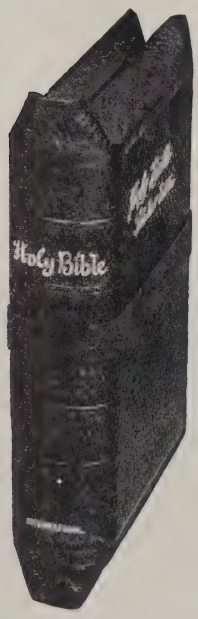
THE JOHN C. WINSTON CO., Philadelphia.

The Bindings of International Bibles

Representative Cloth Binding. Extra Imported Cloth is used. The lettering is always stamped in pure gold.

The cuts used in describing the bindings in this catalog are for the most part wood cuts, and therefore fail to adequately show the beauty of the different bindings, and for that reason we represent the three classes of bindings in the half-tone cuts shown on this page, which are reproduced by photographic process and are therefore exact. The different classes of Bibles are bound similar to these reproductions which will give you a better idea of their attractiveness, but even these cuts fail to represent the beauty of the Bibles themselves.

Representative Leather Limp Binding, usually Seal Grained Leather is used, except on small Bibles where a small Grained Leather is used. These bindings are very durable.



Representative Divinity Circuit Binding, with overlapping edges. International Bibles have an appearance that is distinctive.

With Reference to Cuts

We are always pleased to furnish cuts of Bibles to customers for advertising purposes free of charge. In ordering cuts, please always give the number of the page on which the desired cut is printed and also the name of the Bible it represents, so that no mistake can be made in filling the order. We can also furnish electrotypes of type specimens, and are always willing to lend our assistance in the preparation of advertising material.

THE JOHN C. WINSTON CO.

International Bibles are so flexible and durable they can be rolled without injury to binding or sewing.

. . . Names on Bibles . . .

We have so many inquiries with reference to lettering Bibles that we call attention of the trade to the fact that we are prepared to fill all orders for lettering.

We can put names on Bibles in pure gold on outside or inside of cover in the following styles of type.

In placing orders for lettering, state size of type you desire used by number, or, if size is left to us, we will use the size in our judgment best suited to the size of Bible.

Price for lettering Bibles 40 cents per line
The price is subject to same discount as we allow on the Bibles.

The International Note Book

This book was prepared originally for pastors, but evangelists, teachers, and others have found it a most useful book for recording notes, sermons, essays, and Scriptural references of all kinds.

IN APPEARANCE the book looks like a Divinity Circuit Bible, and therefore does not make the carrying of sermons or notes as conspicuous as would any other form of book. It has no printed matter inside and has no lettering on the outside cover. Pastors can use the book to record their sermons, and will find it more satisfactory to lay the book open before them when delivering their sermons than the use of loose memorandum sheets, and by using the book for this purpose it also preserves their sermons and notes in substantial form.

HOW THE BOOK IS MADE. The book contains over 500 pages ruled with horizontal faint blue lines, thereby making it equally suitable to those who like to write on lines and those who prefer a page without lines.

BINDING. The book is bound in French Seal, Divinity Circuit style, round corners, red under gold edges, and has silk marker.

The saints' resurrection. 1 CORINTHIANS, 16. The manner of it.

25 For he must reign, till he hath put all enemies under his feet.
26 The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death.
27 For he hath put all things under his feet. But when he saith, All things are put under him, it is manifest that he is excepted which did put all things under him.
28 And when all things shall be subdued unto him, then shall the Son also himself be subject unto him that put all things under him, that God may be all in all.
29 Else what shall they do which are baptized for the dead, if the dead rise not at all? why are they then baptized for the dead?
30 And why stand we in jeopardy every hour?
31 I protest by your rejoicing which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord, I die daily.
32 If after the manner of men I have fought with beasts at Ephesus, what advantageth it me, if the dead rise not? let us eat and drink; for to-morrow we die.
33 Be not deceived: evil communications corrupt good manners.
34 Awake to righteousness, and sin not; for some have not the knowledge of God: I speak this to your shame.
35 But some man will say, How are the dead raised up? and with what body do they come?
36 Thou fool, that which thou sowest is not quickened, except it die.
37 And that which thou sowest, thou sowest not that body that shall be, but bare grain, it may chance of wheat, or of some other grain:
38 But God giveth it a body as it hath pleased him, and to every seed his own body.
39 All flesh is not the same flesh: but there is one kind of flesh of men, another flesh of beasts, another of fishes, and another of birds.
40 There are also celestial bodies, and bodies terrestrial: but the glory of the celestial is one, and the glory of the terrestrial is another.
41 There is one glory of the sun, and another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars: for one star differeth from another star in glory.
42 So also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption; it is raised in incorruption:
43 It is sown in dishonour; it is raised in glory: it is sown in weakness; it is raised in power:
44 It is sown a natural body; it is raised a spiritual body. There is a natural body, and there is a spiritual body.
45 And so it is written, The first man Adam was made a living soul; the last Adam was made a quickening spirit.
46 Howbeit that was not first which is spiritual, but that which is natural; and afterward that which is spiritual.
47 The first man is of the earth, earthy: the second man is the Lord from heaven.
48 As is the earthy, such are they also that are earthy: and as is the heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly.
49 And as we have borne the image of the earthy, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly.
50 Now this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth corruption inherit incorruption.
51 Behold, I show you a mystery; We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed,
52 In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump: for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed.
53 For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality.
54 So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory.
55 O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory?
56 The sting of death is sin; and the strength of sin is the law.
57 But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.
58 Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye stedfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord.

CHAPTER 16.

1 How to proceed for the relief of the brethren.
13 Admonitions, 19 and salutations.

NOW concerning the collection for the saints, as I have given order to the churches of Galatia, even so do ye.
2 Upon the first day of the week let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him, that there be no gatherings when I come.
3 And when I come, whomsoever ye shall approve by your letters, them will I send to bring your liberality unto Jerusalem.
4 And if it be meet that I go also, they shall go with me.
5 Now I will come unto you, when I shall pass through Macedonia: for I do pass through Macedonia.
6 And it may be that I will abide, yea, and winter with you, that ye may bring me on my journey whithersoever I go.
7 For I will not see you now by the way; but I trust to tarry a while with you, if the Lord permit.
8 But I will tarry at Ephesus until Pentecost.
9 For a great door and effectual is opened unto me, and there are many adversaries.
10 Now if Timotheus come, see that he may be with you without fear: for he worketh the work of the Lord, as I also do.
11 Let no man therefore despise him: but conduct him forth in peace, that he may come unto me: for I look for him with the brethren.
12 As touching our brother Apollos, I greatly desire him to come unto you with the brethren: but his will was not at all to come at this time; but he will come when he shall have convenient time.
13 Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong.

12 And Mō'şeş spake before the LORD, saying, Behold, the children of Iş'ra-el have not hearkened unto me; how then shall Phā'raōh hear me, who am of uncircumcised lips?

13 And the LORD spake unto Mō'şeş and unto Aâr'on, and gave them a charge unto the children of Iş'ra-el, and unto Phā'raōh king of Ē'gўpt, to bring the children of Iş'ra-el out of the land of Ē'gўpt.

14 ¶These be the heads of their fathers' houses: The sons of Reu'ben the firstborn of Iş'ra-el; Hā'nŏch, and Pāl'lu, Hĕz'rŏn, and Cär'mi: these be the families of Reu'ben.

15 And the sons of Sim'e-on; Jĕmū'el, and Jā'min, and ō'hăd, and Jā'chin, and Zō'hăr, and Shā'ul the son of a Cā'nāan-ĭt-ish woman: these are the families of Sim'e-on.

16 And these are the names of the sons of Lē'vi according to their generations; gēr'shŏn, and Kō'hăth, and Mĕ-rā'rī: and the years of the life of Lē'vi were an hundred thirty and seven years.

17 The sons of gēr'shŏn; Lĭb'nī, and Shĭ'mi, according to their families.

18 And the sons of Kō'hăth; Ăm'răm, and Iz'här, and Hē'bron, and ŭz'zi-el: and the years of the life of Kō'hăth were an hundred thirty and three years.

19 And the sons of Mĕ-rā'rī; Mā'hers of the Lē'vītes according to their families.

26 These are that Aâr'on and Mō'şeş, to whom the LORD said, Bring out the children of Iş'ra-el from the land of Ē'gўpt according to their armies.

27 These are they which spake to Phā'raōh king of Ē'gўpt, to bring out the children of Iş'ra-el from Ē'gўpt: these are that Mō'şeş and Aâr'on.

28 ¶And it came to pass on the day when the LORD spake unto Mō'şeş in the land of Ē'gўpt, 29 That the LORD spake unto Mō'şeş, saying, I am the LORD: speak thou unto Phā'raōh king of Ē'gўpt all that I say unto thee.

30 And Mō'şeş said before the LORD, Behold, I am of uncircumcised lips, and how shall Phā'raōh hearken unto me?

CHAPTER 7.

1 Moses is encouraged to go to Pharaoh: 10 his rod turned into a serpent: 11 the sorcerers do the like. 13 Pharaoh's heart is hardened. 19 The river is turned into blood.

AND the LORD said unto Mō'şeş, See, I have made thee a god to Phā'raōh: and Aâr'on thy brother shall be thy prophet.

13 And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil: For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever. Amen.

15 But if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

27 Which of you, by taking thought, can add one cubit unto his stature?
28 And why take ye thought for raiment? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow: they toil not, neither do they spin:
29 And yet I say unto you, That even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

It is confidently believed that this Teachers' Handy Bible Encyclopedia will be found to contain more practical aid to the students and teachers than the helps found in other Teachers' Bible. The experience of recent years has brought much additional light upon many subjects of Biblical knowledge, has shown that the plan of Bible Aids could be improved, and has also revealed a need among teachers, ministers, and Bible readers for a more popular handbook with the information written in language free from the technicalities of scholars. This work of simplifying was assigned to Rev. Jesse Lyman Hurlbut, D. D., widely known as a Biblical scholar and as a TEACHER OF TEACHERS in the Sunday-school. Some of the improvements in this work over other Bible commentaries are noteworthy. (See full description on next page.)

WHAT IS INDIA BIBLE PAPER? "A thin, soft, absorbent paper, usually of a pale buff tint, made in China and Japan, and imitated in Europe and the United States, where it is used for the first or finest impressions of engravings, called India Proofs."—Century Dictionary,

"INTERNATIONAL" India Paper is much more. It is not an imitation but an original paper made for "International" Bibles. It has superior strength and is of such marvelous opacity that the print on one side of the page cannot be seen through on the other side.

"INTERNATIONAL" India Bible paper instead of being of a light buff color, is made in the bright color so much desired by Bible readers.

The saints' resurrection. 1 CORINTHIANS. 16. The manner of it.

25 For he must reign, till he hath put all enemies under his feet.
26 The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death.
27 For he hath put all things under his feet. But when he saith, All things are put under him, it is manifest that he is excepted which did put all things under him.
28 And when all things shall be subdued unto him, then shall the Son also himself be subject unto him that put all things under him, that God may be all in all.
29 Else what shall they do which are baptized for the dead, if the dead rise not at all? why are they then baptized for the dead?
30 And why stand we in jeopardy every hour?
31 I protest by your rejoicing which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord, I die daily.
32 If after the manner of men I have fought with beasts at Ephesus, what advantageth it me, if the dead rise not? let us eat and drink; for to-morrow we die.
33 Be not deceived: evil communications corrupt good manners.
34 Awake to righteousness, and sin not; for some have not the knowledge of God: I speak this to your shame.
35 But some man will say, How are the dead raised up? and with what body do they come?
36 Thou fool, that which thou sowest is not quickened, except it die.
37 And that which thou sowest, thou sowest not that body that shall be, but bare grain, it may chance of wheat, or of some other grain:
38 But God giveth it a body as it hath pleased him, and to every seed his own body.
39 All flesh is not the same flesh: but there is one kind of flesh of men, another flesh of beasts, another of fishes, and another of birds.
40 There are also celestial bodies, and bodies terrestrial: but the glory of the celestial is one, and the glory of the terrestrial is another.
41 There is one glory of the sun, and another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars: for one star differeth from another star in glory.
42 So also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption; it is raised in incorruption:
43 It is sown in dishonour; it is raised in glory: it is sown in weakness; it is raised in power:
44 It is sown a natural body; it is raised a spiritual body. There is a natural body, and there is a spiritual body.
45 And so it is written, The first man Adam was made a living soul; the last Adam was made a quickening spirit.
46 Howbeit that was not first which is spiritual, but that which is natural; and afterward that which is spiritual.
47 The first man is of the earth, earthy: the second man is the Lord from heaven.
48 As is the earthy, such are they also that are earthy; and as is the heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly.
49 And as we have borne the image of the earthy, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly.
50 Now this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth corruption inherit incorruption.
51 Behold, I show you a mystery; We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed,
52 In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump: for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed.
53 For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality.
54 So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory.
55 O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory?
56 The sting of death is sin; and the strength of sin is the law.
57 But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.
58 Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye stedfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord.

CHAPTER 16.

1 How to proceed for the relief of the brethren. 13 Admonitions, 19 and salutations.

NOW concerning the collection for the saints, as I have given order to the churches of Galatia, even so do ye.
2 Upon the first day of the week let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him, that there be no gatherings when I come.
3 And when I come, whomsoever ye shall approve by your letters, them will I send to bring your liberality unto Jerusalem.
4 And if it be meet that I go also, they shall go with me.
5 Now I will come unto you, when I shall pass through Macedonia: for I do pass through Macedonia.
6 And it may be that I will abide, yea, and winter with you, that ye may bring me on my journey whithersoever I go.
7 For I will not see you now by the way; but I trust to tarry a while with you, if the Lord permit.
8 But I will tarry at Ephesus until Pentecost.
9 For a great door and effectual is opened unto me, and there are many adversaries.
10 Now if Timotheus come, see that he may be with you without fear: for he worketh the work of the Lord, as I also do.
11 Let no man therefore despise him: but conduct him forth in peace, that he may come unto me: for I look for him with the brethren.
12 As touching our brother Apollos, I greatly desire him to come unto you with the brethren: but his will was not at all to come at this time; but he will come when he shall have convenient time.
13 Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong.

17 For the Law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Jesus Christ.
18 No man hath seen God at any time; the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him.
19 ¶ And this is the record of John, when the Jews sent priests and Levites from Jerusalem to ask him, Who art thou?

I saw the Spirit descending from heaven like a dove, and it abode upon him.
33 And I knew him not: but he that sent me to baptize with water, the same said unto me, Upon whom thou shalt see the Spirit descending, and remaining on him, the same is he which baptizeth with the Holy Ghost.
34 And I saw, and bare record that this is the Son of God.
35 ¶ Again, the next day after, John stood, and two of his disciples;
36 And looking upon Jesus as he walked, he saith, Behold the Lamb of God!

RED LETTER BIBLE

ALL THE TYPES AND PROPHECIES
In the Old Testament, pointing to Christ

ALL THE REFERENCES
In the center column of the Old Testament, referring to the words uttered by Christ

ALL THE PASSAGES QUOTED
By Christ from the Old Testament

AND ALL THE WORDS OF CHRIST
In the New Testament

ARE PRINTED IN RED

The Red Letter Bible is the Bible that emphasizes Christ. The Old Testament, in types and prophecies, prefigured and foretold His coming. Christ, himself, endorsed and set His seal upon the Old Testament by continually referring to it and quoting from it. And He commanded us to "Search the Scriptures," for He said, "they testify of me." But how hard it is for the average reader to take the Bible and read it and know what refers to Christ. To such a reader the Red Letter Bible is a great help and benefit.

In the Red Letter Bible eminent scholars have carefully gone through and marked all those passages that point to Christ and all those passages that Jesus Himself quoted. And in this volume all those passages and all the words of Jesus are printed in red ink. That is the story of the Red Letter Bible, which has proved so wonderfully popular.

WARNING Many Publishers are advertising as Red Letter Bibles books which contain ONLY the Words of Christ as found in the New Testament printed in red, but do not contain the Prophecies and Prophetic Types and other markings in red which are found only in the "International" Red Letter Bible. To the Bible Student the Old Testament markings are most important, for the Words of Christ in the New Testament require very little special editing from the fact that such passages are easily distinguished. Be sure your Red Letter Bibles have markings in red in both Old Testament and New Testament.

"THE EASIEST READING BIBLE"

"THE INTERNATIONAL"

Christian Worker's Bible

Indexed and marked in both Old and New Testaments according to the best system of Bible marking on the

THEME of SALVATION

CONTAINING

Over 3,000 Selected Texts Marked and arranged in Sequence with an INTRODUCTION by Rev. Jesse Lyman Hurlbut, D.D.

THE EASIEST READING BIBLE

It is believed that no form in which the Scripture has ever been published makes the reading of it so attractive to both old and young, nor are any Commentaries, voluminous and extensive as they may be, to be compared with this simple system of markings and indexing, in explaining and making easy the way of Salvation.

Ministers, Teachers, Y. M. C. A. and Young People's Societies and Parents will find this the most convenient and helpful Bible for their use. Every page is helpful and leads to further discovery of the greatest truths in God's word.

EXPLANATION OF MARKINGS

THE INDEX, OR KEY directs the reader to the first verse in the Bible on a subject, and, at the close of the first verse on that subject, there is a reference to the next verse on the same subject; so, that (though it may be fifty or one hundred pages away), the reader turns forward rapidly verse to verse, in regular order, until he reads everything in the whole Bible on that subject. Then he turns back, to the index or key, at the beginning, and takes up the next subject in the general plan of Salvation, with the first verse in the Bible on that subject, and reads straight through as before. And, so, one continues until the seventeen subjects, which complete the whole theme of Salvation, shall have been read through. This arrangement will enable anyone to conduct a Bible Reading on any of the following at a moment's notice.

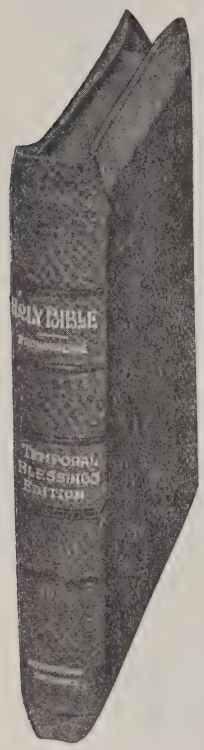
TEMPORAL BLESSINGS BIBLE



Being the Authorized Version of the Scriptures marked by the Best System of Bible Marking on all Subjects connected with the theme of TEMPORAL BLESSINGS

By J. G. LAWSON

Author of Best Methods of Bible Marking

In these days there is an ever-increasing interest in the subject of the Lord's care for His children in temporal things. All of the most spiritually-minded saints, both in Bible times and all down through the centuries of the Christian era, have found much of their joy and blessing through trusting the Lord day by day to direct them, with regard to temporal things as well as spiritual. It is a great joy for a person to have the assurance that his sins are forgiven; but it is the very joy of heaven to feel that God is caring for you and directing you day by day in all the affairs of this life, and that He will supply all your temporal needs as well as your spiritual needs. To thus realize the continuous presence and power of God is indeed the "Christian's Secret of a HappyLife." Christians do not know "the fulness of the blessing of the gospel of Christ" (Romans 15:29), nor find "their heaven on earth begun," until they are brought to see that God cares for them in everything, and are thus led to cast all their care upon Him.

This Bible has been prepared for those desiring to learn the "exceeding great and precious promises" of God with regard to temporal blessings. That He is interested in all our temporal needs is shown from the fact that out of a total of 31,173 verses in the Old Testament, 2,412 verses relate to temporal blessings; and out of a total of 7,959 verses in the New Testament, 1,091 verses relate to temporal blessings. Thus one verse in nine in the Bible concerns temporal blessings. In this Bible all these great promises have been carefully sought out and marked in such a way that the reader will be able to turn rapidly from one verse or passage to another on any subject connected with the theme of TEMPORAL BLESSINGS.

6 And it [g]repented the LORD that he had made man on the earth, and it [h]grieved him at his heart.

L 7 And the LORD said, I will destroy man whom I have created from the face of the earth; [3]both man, and beast, and the creeping thing, and the fowls of the air; for it repenteth me that I have made them.

8 But Nō'ah [i]found grace in the eyes of the LORD. L. verses 17, 18.

9 ¶ These are the generations of Nō'ah: Nō'ah was a just man and [4]perfect in his generations, and Nō'ah walked with God.

10 And Nō'ah begat three sons, Shĕm, Hăm, and Jā'pheth.

11 The earth also was corrupt before God, and the earth was filled with violence.

12 And God looked [j]upon the earth, and, behold, it was corrupt; for all flesh had corrupted his way upon the earth.

13 And God said unto Nō'ah, The [k]end of all flesh is come before me; for the earth is filled with violence through them; and, behold, I will destroy them [5]with the earth.

14 Make thee an ark of gopher wood; [6]rooms shalt thou make in the ark, and shalt pitch it within and without with pitch.

15 And this is the fashion which thou shalt make it of: The length of the ark shall be three hundred cubits, the breadth of it fifty cubits, and the height of it thirty cubits.

16 A window shalt thou make to the ark, and in a cubit shalt thou finish it above; and the door of the ark shalt thou set in the side thereof; with lower, second, and third stories shalt thou make it.

L 17 And, [l]behold, I, even I, do bring a flood of waters upon the earth, to destroy all flesh, wherein is the breath of life, from under heaven; and every thing that is in the earth [m]shall die. S. 7. 1; L. 7. 1.

S 18 But with thee will I establish my covenant; and thou shalt come into the ark, thou, and thy sons, and thy wife, and thy sons' wives with thee.

F 19 And of every living thing of all flesh, two of every sort shalt thou bring into the ark, to keep them alive with thee; they shall be male and female.

20 Of fowls after their kind, and of cattle after their kind, of every creeping thing of the earth after his kind, two of every sort shall come unto thee, to keep them alive.

21 And take thou unto thee of all [n]food that is eaten, and thou shalt gather it to thee; and it shall be for food for thee, and for them. F. 7. 8, 9.

22 [o]Thus did Nō'ah; [p]according to all that God commanded him, so did he.

EXPLANATION OF MARKINGS THE INDEX OR KEY, directs the reader to the first verse in the Old Testament and the New Testament on a subject, and, at the close of the first verse on that subject, there is a reference to the next verse on the same subject; so, that (though it may be fifty or one hundred pages away), the reader turns forward rapidly verse to verse, in regular order, until he reads everything in the whole Bible on that subject. Thus in specimen page above L stands for the Lord's Love and care for His children, and at the end of verse 8 is given the next reference in the Bible to the same subject (verses 17-18) and by referring to these verses is given the next reference. This same method is followed in the sixteen subjects, which complete the whole theme of Temporal Blessings. This arrangement will enable anyone to conduct a Bible reading on any of the subjects of Temporal Blessing at a moment's notice.

CHAPTER 2.

NOW when [a]Jē'sus was born in Bĕth'le-hĕm of Jū-dæ'ā in the days of Hĕr'od the king, behold, [1b]wise men from the east came to Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm,

2 Saying, [2c]Where is he that is born King of the Jews? for we saw his [d]star in the east, and are come to worship him.

3 And when Hĕr'od the king heard it, he was troubled, and all Jĕ-ru'-să-lĕm with him.

4 And gathering together all the [e]chief priests and [f]scribes of the people, [g]he inquired of them where the Chrīst should be born.

5 And they said unto him, In Bĕth'le-hĕm of Jū-dæ'ā: for thus it is written [3]by the prophet,

6 And [h]thou Bĕth'le-hĕm, land of Jū'dah,
Art in no wise least among the princes of Jū'dah:
For out of thee shall come forth a governor,
Which [i]shall be shepherd of my people Ĭs'ra-el.

7 Then Hĕr'od privily called the [1]wise men, and learned of them carefully [4]what time the star appeared.

8 And he sent them to Bĕth'le-hĕm, and said, Go and search out carefully concerning the young child; and when ye have found him, bring me word, that I also may come and worship him.

9 And they, having heard the king, went their way; and lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was.

10 And when they saw the star, they [j]rejoiced with exceeding great joy.

11 And they came into the house and saw the young child with Mā'rў his mother; and they fell down and [k]worshipped him; and opening their treasures they offered unto him gifts, [l]gold and frankincense and [m]myrrh.

12 And being warned of God [n]in a dream that they should not return to Hĕr'od, they departed into their own country another way.

13 ¶Now when they were departed, behold, an angel of the Lord appeareth to Jō'seph in a dream, saying, Arise and take the young child and his mother, and flee into Ē'gўpt, and be thou there until I tell thee: for Hĕr'od will seek the young child to destroy him.

14 And he arose and took the young child and his mother by night, and departed into Ē'gўpt;

15 And was there until the death of Hĕr'od: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Lord through the prophet, saying, [o]Out of Ē'gўpt did I call my son.

16 Then Hĕr'od, when he saw that he was mocked of the [1]wise men, was exceeding wroth, and sent forth, and slew all the male children that were in Bĕth'le-hĕm, and in all the borders thereof, from two years old and under, according to the time which he had carefully learned of the [1]wise men.

17 Then was fulfilled that which was spoken [3]by [p]Jĕr-e-mī'ah the prophet, saying,

18 A voice was heard in Rā'mah,
Weeping and great mourning,
Rā'chel weeping for her children;
And she would not be comforted,
because they are not.

19 ¶But when Hĕr'od was dead, behold, an angel of the Lord appeareth in a dream to Jō'seph in Ē'gўpt, 20 Saying, Arise and take the young child and his mother, and go into the land of Ĭs'ra-el: for they are dead that sought the young child's life.

21 And he arose and took the young child and his mother, and came into the land of Ĭs'ra-el.

22 But when he heard that Ar-chĕ-lā'us was reigning over Jū-dæ'ā in the room of his father Hĕr'od, he was afraid to go thither; and being warned of God in a dream, he withdrew [q]into the parts of Găl'ĭ-lee,

23 And came and dwelt in a city called [r]Năz'a-rĕth: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken [3]by the prophets, that he should be called a [s]Năz'a-rēne.

CHAPTER 3.

AND [a]in those days cometh Jŏhn [1]the Băp'tĭst, [b]preaching in the wilderness of Jū-dæ'ā,

2 Saying, Repent ye; [c]for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

With the [1]jawbone[1] of an ass have I [1]smitten[1] a thousand men.

Specimen Page showing size and style of type used in the German Red Letter Bible and German Red Letter Testament. The portions printed in red are the words spoken by Jesus while on earth.

42. Und da er zu ihm kam, riß ihn der Teufel, und zerrete ihn. Jesus aber bedräuete den unsaubern Geist, und machte den Knaben gesund, und gab ihn seinem Vater wieder.

43. Und sie entsetzten sich alle über der Herrlichkeit Gottes. Da sie sich aber alle verwunderten über allem, das er that, sprach er zu seinen Jüngern:

44. Fasset ihr zu euren Ohren diese Rede, denn des Menschen Sohn muß überantwortet werden in der Menschen Hände.

45. Aber das Wort * vernahmen sie nicht, und es war vor ihnen verborgen, daß sie es nicht begriffen; und sie fürchteten sich ihn zu fragen um dasselbige Wort. * L. 18, 34.

(V. 46—50. Matth. 18, 1—9. Marc. 9, 33—50.)

46. Es kam auch ein Gedanke unter sie, welcher unter ihnen der Größeste wäre?

47. Da aber Jesus den Gedanken ihres Herzens sahe, ergriff er ein Kind, und stellete es neben sich.

48. Und sprach zu ihnen: Wer das Kind aufnimmt in meinem Namen, der nimmt mich auf; und wer mich aufnimmt, der nimmt den auf, der mich gesandt hat. Welcher aber der Kleinste ist unter euch allen, der wird groß sein.

Matth. 10, 40. Joh. 13, 20.

49. Da antwortete Johannes und sprach: Meister, wir sahen einen, der trieb die Teufel aus in deinem Namen, und wir wehreten ihm, denn er folgete dir nicht mit uns.

50. Und Jesus sprach zu ihm: Wehret ihm nicht; denn * wer nicht wider uns ist, der ist für uns. * L. 11, 23. Matth. 12, 30.

51. Es begab sich aber, do die Zeit erfüllet war, daß er sollte von hinnen genommen werden, wandte er sein Angesichte stracks gen Jerusalem zu wandeln.

52. Und er sandte Boten vor ihm hin, die giengen hin und kamen * in einen Markt der Samariter, daß sie ihm Herberge bestelleten. * Joh. 4, 4.

53. Und sie nahmen ihn nicht an, darum daß er sein Angesichte gewendet hatte zu wandeln gen Jerusalem.

54. Da aber das seine Jünger Jakobus und Johannes sahen, sprachen sie: Herr, willst du, so wollen wir sagen, daß Feuer vom Himmel falle und verzehre sie, wie Elia that? 2 Kön. 1, 10.

55. Jesus aber wandte sich, und bedräuete sie und sprach: Wisset ihr nicht, welches Geistes Kinder ihr seid?

56. Des * Menschen Sohn ist nicht kommen, der Menschen Seelen zu verderben, sondern zu erhalten.

* Joh. 3, 17. 12, 47.

(V. 57—60. Matth. 8, 19—22.)

57. Und sie giengen in einen andern Markt. Es begab sich aber, da sie auf dem Wege waren, sprach einer zu ihm: Ich will dir folgen, wo du hingehest.

58. Und Jesus sprach zu ihm: Die Füchse haben Gruben, und die Vögel unter dem Himmel haben Nester; aber des Menschen Sohn hat nicht, da er sein Haupt hinlege.

59. Und er sprach zu einem andern: Folge mir nach. Der sprach aber: Herr, erlaube mir, daß ich zuvor hingehe und meinen Vater begrabe.

60. Aber Jesus sprach zu ihm: Laß die Todten ihre Todten begraben; gehe du aber hin, und verkündige das Reich Gottes.

61. Und ein anderer sprach: Herr, ich * will dir nachfolgen; aber erlaube mir zuvor, daß ich einen Abschied mache mit denen, die in meinem Hause sind.

* 1 Kön. 19, 20.

62. Jesus aber sprach zu ihm: Wer seine Hand an den Pflug leget, und siehet zurück, der ist nicht * geschickt zum Reich Gottes. * Spr. 26, 11. 2 Petr. 2, 20.

Das 10. Kapitel.

Aussendung und Zurückkunft der siebenzig Jünger. Dankgebet Jesu. Gleichniß vom barmherzigen Samariter. Maria und Martha. Eins ist Noth.

1. Darnach sonderte der Herr andere siebenzig aus, und sandte sie * je zween und zween vor ihm her in alle Städte und Orte, da er wollte hinkommen;

* Marc. 6, 7.

2. Und sprach zu ihnen: Die Ernte ist groß, der Arbeiter aber ist wenig; bittet den Herrn der Ernte, daß er Arbeiter aussende in seine Ernte.

Joh. 4, 35. Matth. 9, 37. 38.

John's preaching. S. MATTHEW, 4. Christ is baptized.

6 And were baptized of him in Jordan, confessing their sins.
7 But when he saw many of the Pharisees and Sadducees come to his baptism, he said unto them, O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from the wrath to come?

8 Bring forth therefore fruits meet for repentance;
9 And think not to say within yourselves, We have Abraham to our father: for I say unto you, that God is able of these stones to raise up children unto

15 And Jesus answering said unto him, Suffer it to be so now: for thus it becometh us to fulfil all righteousness. Then he suffered him.
16 And Jesus, when he was baptized, went up straightway out of the water: and, lo, the heavens were opened unto him, and he saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove, and lighting upon him:
17 And lo a voice from heaven, saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

34 Saying, Let us alone; what have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us? I know thee who thou art; the Holy One of God.

35 And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. And when the devil had thrown him in the midst, he came out of him, and hurt him not.

36 And they were all amazed, and spake among themselves, saying, What a word is this! for with authority and power he commandeth the unclean spirits, and they come out.

37 And the fame of him went out into every place of the country round about.

38 ¶ And he arose out of the synagogue, and entered into Simon's house. And Simon's wife's mother was taken with a great fever; and they besought him for her.

39 And he stood over her, and rebuked the fever; and it left her. And immediately she arose and ministered unto them.

40 ¶ Now when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases brought them unto him; and he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them.

41 And devils also came out of many, crying out, and saying, Thou art Christ the Son of God. And he, rebuking them, suffered them not to speak: for they knew that he was Christ.

42 And when it was day, he departed and went into a desert place: and the people sought him, and came unto him, and stayed him, that he should not depart from them.

43 And he said unto them, I must preach the kingdom of God to other cities also: for therefore am I sent.

44 And he preached in the synagogues of Galilee.

16 And from that time he sought opportunity to betray him.
17 ¶Now the first day of the feast of unleavened bread the disciples came to Jē'sus, saying unto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare for thee to eat the passover?
18 And he said, Go into the city to such a man, and say unto him, The Master saith, My time is at hand; I will keep the passover at thy house with my disciples.
19 And the disciples did as Jesus appointed them; and they made ready the passover.

21 And as they did eat, he said, Verily I say unto you, that one of you shall betray me.
22 And they were exceeding sorrowful, and began every one of them to say unto him, Lord, is it I?
23 And he answered and said, He that dippeth his hand with me in the dish, the same shall betray me.
24 The Son of man goeth as it is written of him: but woe unto that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed! good were it for that man if he had not been born.
25 Then Jū'das, which betrayed him, answered and said, Master, is it I? He said unto him, Thou hast said.
26 ¶And as they were eating, Jesus took bread, and blessed, and brake it, and gave to the disciples, and said, Take, eat; this is my body.
27 And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and gave to them, saying, Drink ye all of it;
28 For this is my blood of the new testament, which is shed for many for the remission of sins.
29 But I say unto you, I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it new with you in my Father's kingdom.
30 ¶And when they had sung an hymn, they went out into the mount of Ŏl'ĭves.

EXPLANATION

This Testament is marked in red on every subject connected with the theme of Salvation.

A reference to the first verse on each subject is printed after the subject in this index (see opposite page). After every verse or passage marked in this Testament there is a reference to the next verse or passage on the same subject. This will enable anyone to give a Bible reading, at a moment's notice, on any subject marked in the Testament.

The capital letters used in this index, and on the margin of verses, a ed in front of the references, are to indicate the subjects; thus F stands for Faith, R for Repentance, etc., (see opposite page). The letters on the margin of a verse will enable the person who is familiar with them to tell at a glance the subjects of the verse or passage.

47 And if thine eye ‖offend thee, pluck it out: it is better for thee to enter into the kingdom of God with one eye, than having two eyes to be cast into hell fire:

48 Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.

49 For every one shall be salted with fire, [c]and every sacrifice shall be salted with salt.

50 [d]Salt is good: but if the salt have lost his saltness, wherewith will ye season it? [e]Have salt in yourselves, and [f]have peace one with another.

CHAPTER 10.

Jesus answereth the Pharisees concerning divorce. 13 He blesseth little children; 17 answereth the rich young man; 23 and sheweth how hard it is for a rich man to enter the kingdom of God. 28 The reward of those who forsake all and follow him. 32 He again foretelleth his own death and resurrection. 35 The request of James and John. 42 Jesus exhorteth to humility. 46 He healeth blind Bartimeus at Jericho.

A.D. 33. AND [a]he arose from thence, and cometh into the coasts of Ju-de'a by the farther side of Jor'dan: and the people resort unto him again; and, as he was wont, he taught them again.

2 ¶ [b]And the Phar'i-sees came to him, and asked him, Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife? tempting

18 And Jesus said unto him, Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, that is, God.

19 Thou knowest the commandments, [g]Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Defraud not, Honour thy father and mother.

20 And he answered and said unto him, Master, all these have I observed from my youth.

21 Then Jesus beholding him loved him, and said unto him, One thing thou lackest: go thy way, sell whatsoever thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have [m]treasure in heaven: and come, take up the cross, and follow me.

22 And he was sad at that saying, and went away grieved: for he had great possessions.

23 ¶ [n]And Jesus looked round about, and saith unto his disciples, How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God!

24 And the disciples were astonished at his words. But Jesus answereth again, and saith unto them, Children, how hard is it for them [o]that trust in riches to enter into the kingdom of God!

THE author is well known by his "Introduction to New Testament Literature" and other works of similar character.

The present volume has been stripped of technicality. There is not a line of Greek text, nor a sentence, not adapted to the comprehension of the average intelligent layman. THE CAMPAIGN OF CHANCELLORSVILLE. A STRATEGIC AND TACTICAL STUDY. By JOHN BIGELOW, JR., Major U. S. Cavalry, retired, Author of "Mars la Tour and Gravelotte," "The Principles of Strategy," and "Reminiscences of the Santiago Campaign." With 47 maps and plans.

THE author's object in describing the Campaign of Chancellorsville has been not only to tell what was done, but how it was done; to present a characteristic or typical view of the conditions and methods of troop-leading that obtained during our Civil War; and to interest and instruct the general reader as well as the military student.

The work is divided into two parts. Part I, "The Period of Preparation," covers from January 25, 1863, to the issuing of orders for the movement of the army, April 26, 1863. It treats of the reorganization and general improvement of the army; of the scouts, raids and forays of Mosby and Fitzhugh Lee; of the first battle of Kelley's Ford, and of other minor operations. Part II, "The Period of Operation," treats of the march to Chancellorsville; of the marching and fighting in the Wilderness; of Sedgwick's attempt to reach Chancellorsville, including the battles of Marye's Heights and Salem Church; of Stoneman's raid against Lee's communications; and of Jones's and Imboden's raids against the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. Account is taken also of the operations on and near the peninsula of Virginia, from April 26 to May 6, the operations of the forces on both sides being described and discussed day by day.

The work supplies what is probably the most thorough and exhaustive study of American military operations ever undertaken, and its historical value is proportionately great. The forty-seven maps—which have been reproduced in three colors by means of lithography—cannot be surpassed for clearness and precision. The presswork is of the best possible character. There have been printed from type one thousand copies only. Early subscription is therefore urged.

Royal octavo, size 8¼ by 12, about 400 pages, 47 maps. Boxed, net price $10, carriage extra.

Farrand, Max

THE RECORDS OF THE FEDERAL CONVENTION OF 1787. By Max Farrand, Professor of History, Yale University.

THE convention of 1787 framed the Constitution of the United States of America. The proceedings were held under the strictest confidence, and for a period of thirty years no word of what took place there was made public by the delegates. The variety of versions thereafter published shows the need for the present exhaustive work, which constitutes the result of years of study on the part of the Editor, and comprehensively embraces all that has been written or published by the various participants in the deliberations of the Convention. It is therefore to be reckoned a work of extreme importance to students of Constitutional Law, and as a source book it will be invaluable to lawyers and legislators.

The work is issued in three royal octavo volumes, size 6¾ x 10½, each containing 600 pages. There is also a large-paper Subscribers' Edition, numbered, and strictly limited to 250 copies. In this is used Dutch hand-made paper of the finest grade, the books are printed with scrupulous care, and beautifully bound in boards with vellum back, label and corners.

McIlwain, C. H.

THE HIGH COURT OF PARLIAMENT AND ITS SUPREMACY. AN HISTORICAL ESSAY ON THE BOUNDARIES BETWEEN LEGISLATION AND ADJUDICATION IN ENGLAND. BY C. H. MCILWAIN, Thomas Brackett Reed Professor of History and Political Science in Bowdoin College.

THE peculiar timeliness of the work will serve to enhance its value as a piece of original and scholarly research into a subject of great permanent and present vital interest. The sub-title indicates the scope and method of the book. The author traces the origin, growth and development of Parliament, and proves by frequent citations from contemporary records and writers, that many of our modern conceptions as to the usages and the immemorial rights of Parliament are erroneous. He indicates and illustrates the importance of the judicial side of Parliament in all stages of its development, especially in its bearing upon the attitude of the judges towards Parliament's "Acts." He makes clear the origin and growth of the doctrine of parliamentary sovereignty as a reaction from the theory of the Divine Right of Kings; the employment of the old precedents for Parliament's judicial supremacy in support of the newer legislative omnipotence enjoyed by Parliament during and after the civil wars of the seventeenth century; the effect of the new doctrine upon England's later judicial and political history; and finally, its influence upon the imperial problems of to-day.

Octavo, cloth binding, gilt top, 400 pages, index. Price $2.50 net; postage, 16 cents.

OTHER SOURCE METHOD TEXT BOOKS.

The Ways and Teachings of the Church.
A Course of Lessons for Pupils of Confirmation Age. Source Method. By the Rev. Lefferd Merle Alexander Haughwout, M.A. .10. Postage, 2 cts.
A text book on the Source Method.

"The order of lessons has been determined by the natural intellectual processes of the child-mind: the concrete first, and then the abstract. So instead of beginning with the doctrine of God and ending with church furniture and details of ritual, somewhat of an anti-climax, the reverse order has been chosen. First, the material house of worship, its furniture, symbolism, ministers, and services; and then the true Church as the Body of Christ, its origin, history, teachings, and sacraments."

The Church and the Bible.
A Course of Sunday School Instruction set forth by the Sunday School Commission of the Diocese of Indianapolis. .06. Postage, 1 ct.
(Excerpt from the Introduction.)

"The object of the Course is to supply a plan of study which will be not only systematic and Churchly, but at the same time thoroughly graded, and following certain lines along which the best work in Sunday School instruction is moving to-day. It has been thought best to retain Memoriter work to a much larger degree than is customary in most present day systems. At the same time the pupils are sent to the sources of information, the Bible and the Prayer Book, whenever this is possible. A third division has been added, unique, we believe, with this course. This is the study of the Missionary work of the Church."

The Lessons cover six grades, so that all classes of the Sunday School are taught from the same book.
